

WELLSVILLE INVENTION FROM WHICH THOUSANDS IN PROFITS ARE EXPECTED

New Process For Refining Petroleum Patented
and Fortune Thought to Await the Inventor.

W. D. Perkins, genius, expert and inventor, residing for the present at Wellsville, was in the city this morning on business in connection with his latest invention, in which Wellsville capitalists are interested and have the assurance that within the next two months they will realize thousands of dollars through the sale of it. It may be the means of introducing a new local industry.

It is a continuous process for refining petroleum and the manufacturers of oil and its products it is thought will undoubtedly be of value beyond computation. The invention is the result of several years' hard labor on the part of Mr. Perkins. He is a son of an official of the Standard Oil company and while assisting his father grasped the idea. Happening to drift into Wellsville about a year ago he found a few wealthy men who were owners of oil territory and soon interested them in his discovery. To complete it he was compelled to have the product at his command. When given the use of a practically deserted well located on the outskirts of Wells-ville, he started in with vigor and in a short time had the invention ready for patent.

Considerable time elapsed before the patent was granted but it is now in the hands of a prominent law firm of Pittsburgh and the Wellsville men were told only last week that the only thing that is holding back a sale of the patent at a fabulous price is the fact that two great oil corporations are after it. The one offering the most money will be the recipient of the prize.

The one great feature of the invention, and the one that makes it valuable, is that oil started into one end of the device in its crude state, is divided into four distinct products before leaving the receptacle. To separate the products different degrees of temperature are required. Four degrees are necessary to give the results and these four are contained in the invention. The process is continuous and so simple that a child can comprehend it. The present way of refining oil requires much unnecessary work. The oil is placed in a refining device and one part taken from it at a time.

POWER COMPANY SUED FOR $1,000

W. J. Wilson Asks Damages, Claiming He Was Assaulted and Put Off a Car.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—William J. Wilson, of East Liverpool, has brought suit against the United Power company, of that city, for $1,000 damages for an assault made upon him by one of the company's street car conductors. In his petition the plaintiff says that on the evening of November 16, 1902, he boarded a car at the corner of Fifth and Market streets, East Liverpool, to ride to his home in the East End. He alleges that he paid his fare and took his seat in the rear of the car, whereupon the conductor, Edward Dillon, began to annoy and insult him.

When the car entered the intersection of College street at the bank of the river, the river bank being high at this point and covered with broken dishes, he says that Dillon assaulted him and ordered him to leave the car. This he agreed to do, provided his fare was returned and the car stopped at a point where he could alight without endangering his life, but the conductor refused to return the fare or remove the car to a safe point. He dragged Wilson to the rear platform, where he struck him, and with the assistance of a fellow employee hurled him headlong from the car over the high embankment.

Wilson says he was so badly injured about the face, limbs and body that he was unable to work for 15 days. He further says that he conducted himself in an orderly manner while on the car and thinks he is entitled to damages in the sum stated for the wanton disgrace and injury to which he was subjected.

EXCITING BLAZE QUICKLY CHECKED

FIRE IN A HOUSE ON WALNUT STREET DREW CROWDS.

Damage Was Not Great—Fireman McCullough's Hand Painfully Injured.

Fire in the Patterson property, occupied by the Stanley family, corner of Forest and Walnut streets, Saturday afternoon occasioned the assembling of an excited crowd of spectators and until the fire department came grave apprehension was felt as to the outcome of the blaze. From the windows and numerous other apertures smoke poured in volumes and the house being located in close proximity to several other buildings of much value, it was considered that all were in immediate danger.

The fire company, headed by Captain Morley, was soon on the scene, however, and fear was quickly dispelled. The location of the fire in the house being easily seen the firemen rushed to the room, which was up stairs and at the rear, and commenced fighting with energy.

Chemicals were used and they were found sufficient to extinguish the fire. Damage to the house is estimated at $40 and to the household goods, belonging to Mrs. Stanley, about the same amount.

While engaged in the work of putting out the fire Fireman McCullough met with an accident, not serious but extremely painful. He was attempting to force the pressure in one of the patent extinguishers when the glass portion of it burst at the top, the

NARROWLY ESCAPED TRIP TO LISBON

Charles Johnson Arrested And Fined
For Striking Men Upon the Street.

That Charles Johnson escaped a trip to Lisbon for trial before common pleas court on a serious charge was due simply to leniency on the part of the man who was the cause of his arrest.

Thomas Anderson, of Monroe street, and William Sullivan, of Drury Lane, had occasion to go to the vicinity of the Thompson house at about 11 o'clock at night. In passing out Drury Lane they saw a man standing in the dark and one of them jokingly made a remark. They continued on their errand forgetting that they had even seen a man standing in the lane. They were much surprised when they were hailed from the rear by a man who said: "You will insult me, will you?" They immediately recognized him as the man that they had passed in the lane and believing him to be drunk told him to go and attend to his own business. Without replying he rushed at Anderson and landed a terrific blow on the side of the head. He then made for Sullivan but he was defeated in his attempt.

The two men, both highly respected citizens, did not wish to become involved in a disgraceful encounter and after succeeding in getting the man to move, continued down Broadway. Meeting Officer Dunn they informed him of the happening and Johnson was soon under arrest. A charge of disorderly conduct was placed against him, though Messrs. Anderson and Sullivan were inclined to charge him with assault and battery. To the charge he pleaded guilty this morning and was fined $7.00.

MAN'S LEG NEARLY CUT OFF BY A FALL ON CUSPIDOR

John Powers, a machinist, employed at the Patterson foundry, met with a distressing and most peculiar accident yesterday morning at about 9 o'clock. As a result he lies in a bed at Mrs. Anderson's boarding house on Market street, suffering intense pain and with all chances against his speedy recovery.

At the time designated he went to the bath room of the boarding house and was preparing to take a bath. Having run sufficient water for the purpose into the tub he also dropped a piece of soap in. It went directly to the bottom. Failing to notice this he stepped into the water. His foot struck the cake of soap, causing him to slip, and before he could regain his equilibrium he fell with much force backward to the floor. In alighting, his right leg above the knee came in violent contact with a china cuspidor, a part of which had been broken, leaving a sharp edge.

The force of the fall was so great

MEN NO LONGER IN THE BUSINESS

Insurance Agents Accused of Questionable Practices Are Not Operating Now.

Since the publication of an article in the News Review Saturday concerning the questionable transactions of two former young insurance men, a number of the local agents have been much exercised lest the statements made should injure their business. For the benefit of these parties, the News Review, while willing and ready to substantiate all statements made in the article in question, will say in justice to other agents that the men accused of questionable practices are not now engaged in the insurance business.

Though the article did not state what company or companies the parties represented, the local superintendent of the Prudential concern volunteered the information this morning that everything connected with his company, as far as agents are concerned, is regular.

Able to Leave the Hospital.

Mrs. C. Bucey, of the West End, left this morning for Pittsburgh to accompany her daughter, Nannie, to her home in this city. Miss Bucey has been an inmate of the Passavant hospital for several weeks, but is now thought to be able to return home. She was injured in an elevator accident at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery two months ago, and it was thought at that time she could not recover.

STRONG OPPONENT FOR MR. ARCHER

Aspirant For Third Term as Senator Finds Political Troubles Multiplying.

PROSPECTS NOT ROSEATE

Secretary Laylin Finds the Code Silent as Regards the Division of Wards Into Precincts—Notes From the Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, December 22.—The troubles of State Senator Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire, are multiplying. In his candidacy for a third term he is to have strong opposition in his own county. Charles J. Heinlein, a Bridgeport attorney, announces he will compete with Archer for the Belmont county delegation. He is said to be of the Hanna persuasion, while Archer is a supporter of Foraker. Archer's political prospects do not seem roseate. Opposition at home means that he will be unable to leave Belmont county with a full delegation, so necessary to attain success. Those acquainted with the situation do not believe Archer can even control a majority of his county's delegates. The people of the joint district generally, if reports are to be relied upon, are unable to discover a reason which warrants him in asking them to violate a long established precedent against a third term. Columbiana county sentiment is against legislative third terms.

Secretary of State Laylin has made the discovery that the code is silent on the question of subdivision of wards into precincts in cities having no registration. Where there is no registration, the elections are under the control of the board of deputy state supervisors, but it develops that the new code gives them no power to rearrange voting precincts at the first election. Mr. Laylin does not regard the omission as very serious. For the first election, he said, council could designate a precinct where the voting will take place, and after the first election, under the law, the board could sub-divide the new wards into precincts of their own volition, or upon petition of the electors, providing over 400 votes were cast in the ward. Mr. Laylin also expressed the opinion that there would be no harm done either, were the board to make each ward one precinct, designating the most convenient voting place for election purposes, and then arrange for the new precincts later.

The Sebring Coopers company, capital $15,000, has been incorporated by O. H. Sebring, B. H. Sebring, P. C. Sebring, M. J. Sebring, and W. L. Murphy.

Michael Ready, of Leetonia; Elden Holt, Washingtonville, and John Archibald, East Palestine, will be candidates for auditor at the state convention of the miners which meets here in January.

John Gales, sentenced to serve two years for burglary and larceny from Columbiana county, has been released from the penitentiary, upon completion of his term.

NO LONGER ANY ROOM FOR DOUBT ABOUT PLANS OF THE LISBON RAILWAY

Work Will Begin in the Spring on the East and West Extensions of the Line.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—

There is no longer any doubt that the projects of the new Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad company are to be carried out. Judge Billingsley, president of the company, said the other day that work on the east and west connections will be under way next spring as early as possible after which attention will be given to the northern outlet through Salem.

It seems to be the intention of the company to make the connection with Salem at Washingtonville and from a remark made by a competent official of the company a few days ago, to make the Salem road a connecting link through to Ashtabula, as the first antinouncement indicated. The route to be followed in making the connection to Washingtonville has not been determined.

A corps of engineers who are running the line west from Salem to Bayard report that they have found a remarkably easy grade between the two points. The heaviest incline encountered is about 40 feet to the mile and continues only a short distance.

The officials of the company are much gratified that such a feasible route may be secured. The western extension will touch or pass the villages of East Rochester, Hanoverton, Kensington, Chambersburg and Moultrie.

AN UNEXPECTED OBSTACLE FOUND

Which Will Further Delay Filing of Pennsylvania Avenue Equalization Board's Report.

Contrary to announcement made in a local evening newspaper the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board will not make its report to council at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow evening. The report will not be ready for submission for several days yet, and if it is presented before the first of the year it will be at an adjourned meeting of the city fathers. The members of the board encountered a difficulty last week which they had not anticipated. In investigating the lots contained in tracts of land owned by real estate agencies, seven of which are located along the avenue, the board found that the original assessing board had turned in the assessments on the plots as a whole and had not designated the lots. Since the latter board filed its report with the county auditor, many of these lots have been sold and numerous dwellings erected. A lot of a plat being sold it no longer is in the hands of the real estate men and they cannot be charged with the assessment due on the lot sold. As a result the board found it necessary to designate every lot and place the benefit assessment against its owner.

Another unanticipated discovery, and the one that will hold the board back in getting its report fully completed as soon as was wished, is that a tract of land above Oakland, subdivided into seven lots, sold within the past few months, has owners, of course, but who they are the board has as yet been unable to ascertain. What they can do in the matter is not known or decided upon, but they have a solution under advisement. The assessment will be made against the lot number, and the ownership the board will leave for the auditor to find out.

MOVEMENTS OF BOATS

The River Falling Slowly — Business of the Packets Good.

The river is rising slowly today, the result of the rains of Saturday and yesterday. There is a stage of about 12 feet here.

The Kanawha, from Charleston, and the Ben Hur, from Parkersburg, arrived at the wharf simultaneously at 6 o'clock last evening. Quite a crowd had collected at the wharf to greet arriving and departing friends and the stage landing from the wharf to the shore gave away under their weight. None were injured, but all had a bad scare.

The Keystone State arrived at midnight from Cincinnati and left for Pittsburgh. She is due on the return trip at 8 o'clock tonight. The Kanawha is due down tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The towboat Coal City, which is owned by the coal combination, struck a pier of the railroad bridge at Steubenville Saturday afternoon and sank one barge of coal. The boat proceeded on her journey. The Jim Wood dropped a barge at the Beaver bridge several days ago. The towboat Joseph B. Williams in passing Marietta damaged the Marietta wharfboat. The big steamer in flanking with her tow was carried by the strong current towards the wharfboat and struck it with her fantail. The Williams has a very large tow of coal for New Orleans.

Will Probated.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—The will of the late Susan McCammon, of Perry township, has been admitted to the probate. Mary J. Coy and Margie Day are named as executors. No bond required.

Bee Hive Sold.

Mr. Solomon, proprietor of the Bee Hive store, owing to ill health, will shortly leave for California. He has sold the store to Koch Bros., who will shortly take charge.

MINSTRELSY BY HOME TALENT

Well Known Young People to Appear On Stages of Local Theatres.

"The Twentieth Century Minstrels," composed mostly of local performers, will appear at the Cooper Opera house, Wellsville, tomorrow night. There are 36 in the cast, headed by U. G. Kane and Lones Connelly, of Youngstown, both well known minstrels. Professor Von Cook, late with Victor Herbert, is the leader of the orchestra. A street parade will be given in this city at 11:30 o'clock in the morning which will be followed by one in Wellsville. The program is replete with modern and up-to-date songs and monologues and those who appear in the cast have recognized ability. The first part, it is said, by those who have seen the rehearsals, to be gorgeous and equal if not superior to those of professional troupes. The farce, "The Filipino's Holiday," which is to conclude the performance, is a great laughmaker. It is the intention of the management to give the performance in a number of nearby towns. It has secured the local opera house for New Year's evening.

Drummer boy a big success.

Last Performance Given—G. A. R. and Patriotic Societies Make Neat Sum.

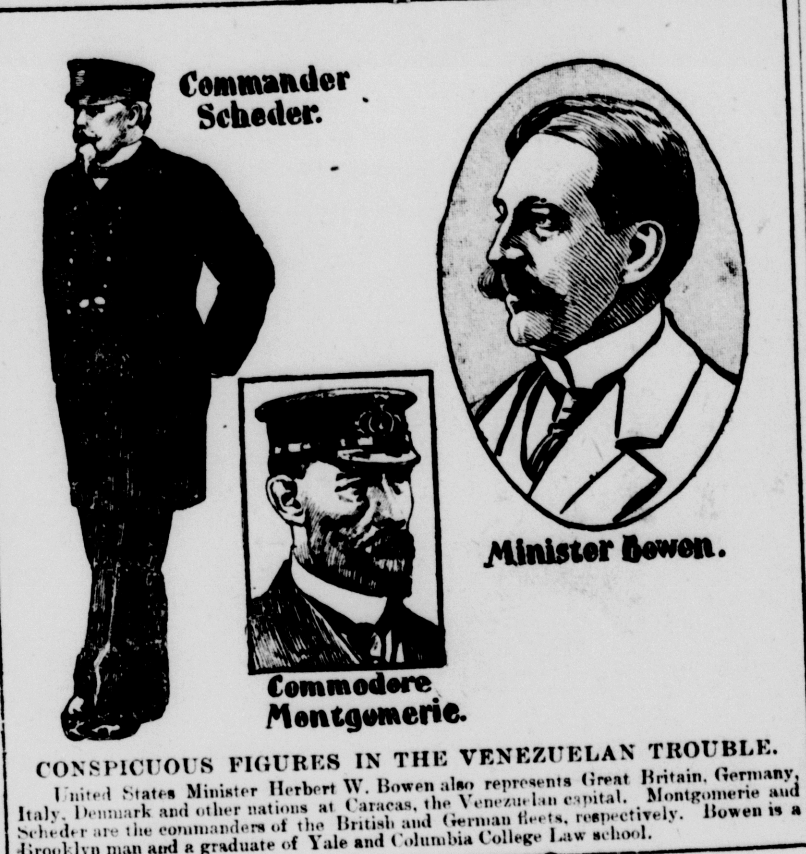

The last performance of "The Drummer Boy" was witnessed by a very large audience at the Grand Saturday night, and the Grand Army and auxiliaries will clear up a neat sum.

Every member of the cast did well. Harry Craig Nail, of Mansfield, who takes the leading role, is particularly clever, and though young in years is destined to take his place among the very best men in the profession. Mr. Nail has had considerable experience in opera, being a baritone of unusual ability.

An extra effort had been made at Saturday's performance to work up a few extra comedy features for the awkward squad, which was commanded by Jacob Shenkel as "Fatty" Smith, and the result was gratifying. The work of E. M. Fisher and George Bevington, two local minstrel men, was worthy of especial mention.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are indebted to Stage Manager Joseph Bradley and his force of stage men. They had a difficult task in handling the big production, and they did it well.

Man's leg nearly cut off by a fall on cuspidor.

John Powers, a machinist, employed at the Patterson foundry, met with a distressing and most peculiar accident yesterday morning at about 9 o'clock. The force of the fall was so great the cuspidor penetrated the limb almost to the bone. Blood spurting in big streams from the cut and it produced terrible pain. Powers realized that he had been dangerously wounded and was for a few moments unable to suppress his fears. His loud cries for help soon brought a crowd to the room and all were horrified at his suffering. His nude form bespattered with blood and the agonizing look his face led all to believe that he was mortally wounded or that perhaps he had attempted to commit suicide.

Dr. W. W. Hamilton was hurriedly summoned. He too, was impressed with the seriousness of the unfortunate man's predicament and with dispatch made an examination, finding the leg almost severed. The excessive flow of blood was stopped and in a short time Powers was left in a condition as favorable as could be expected. Unless complications set in he will recover, but he is in danger of blood poisoning.

STRONG OPPONENT FOR MR. ARCHER

Aspirant For Third Term as Senator Finds Political Troubles Multiplying.

PROSPECTS NOT ROSEATE

Secretary Laylin Finds the Code Silent as Regards the Division of Wards into Precincts—Notes From the Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, December 22.—The troubles of State Senator Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire, are multiplying. In his candidacy for a third term he is to have strong opposition in his own county. Charles J. Heinlein, a Bridgeport attorney, announces he will compete with Archer for the Belmont county delegation. He is said to be of the Hanna persuasion, while Archer is a supporter of Foraker. Archer's political prospects do not seem rosy. Opposition at home means that he will be unable to leave Belmont county with a full delegation, so necessary to attain success. Those acquainted with the situation do not believe Archer can even control a majority of his county's delegates. The people of the joint district generally, if reports are to be relied upon, are unable to discover a reason which warrants him in asking them to violate a long established precedent against a third term. Columbiana county sentiment is against legislative third terms.

Secretary of State Laylin has made the discovery that the code is silent on the question of subdivision of wards into precincts in cities having no registration. Where there is no registration, the elections are under the control of the board of deputy state supervisors, but it develops that the new code gives them no power to re-arrange voting precincts at the first election. Mr. Laylin does not regard the situation as very serious. For the first election, he said, council could designate a precinct where the voting will take place, and after the first election, under the law, the board could sub-divide the new wards into precincts of their own volition, or upon petition of the electors, providing over 400 votes were cast in the ward. Mr. Laylin also expressed the opinion that there would be no harm done either, were the board to make each ward one precinct, designating the most convenient voting place for election purposes, and then arrange for the new precincts later.

Work Will Begin in the Spring on the East and West Extensions of the Line.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special).—There is no longer any doubt that the projects of the new Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad company are to be carried out. Judge Billingsley, president of the company, said the other day that work on the east and west connections will be under way next spring as early as possible after which attention will be given to the northern outlet through Salem.

It seems to be the intention of the company to make the connection with Salem at Washingtonville and from a remark made by a competent official of the company a few days ago, to make the Salem road a connecting link through to Ashtabula, as the first trial.

A corps of engineers who are running the line west from Salem to Bayard report that they have found a remarkably easy grade between the two points. The heaviest incline encountered is about 40 feet to the mile and continues only a short distance. The officials of the company are much gratified that such a feasible route may be secured. The western extension will touch or pass the villages of East Rochester, Hanoverton, Kensington, Chambersburg and Moul-

AN UNEXPECTED OBSTACLE FOUND

Which Will Further Delay Filing of Pennsylvania Avenue Equalization Board's Report.

Contrary to announcement made in a local evening newspaper the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board will not make its report to council at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow evening. The report will not be ready for submission for several days yet, and if it is presented before the first of the year it will be at an adjourned meeting of the city fathers.

The members of the board encountered a difficulty last week which they had not anticipated. In investigating the lots contained in blocks of land owned by real estate agencies, seven of which are located along the avenue, the board found that the original assessing board had turned in the assessments on the plots as a whole and had not designated the lots. Since the latter board filed its report with the county auditor, many of these lots have been sold and numerous dwellings erected. A lot of a plat being sold no longer is in the hands of the real estate men and they cannot be charged with the assessment due on the lot sold. As a result the board found it necessary to designate every lot and place the benefit assessment against its owner.

Another unanticipated discovery, and the one that will hold the board back in getting its report fully completed as soon as was wished, is that a tract of land above Oakland, subdivided into seven lots, sold within the past few months, has owners of course, but who who they are the board has as yet been unable to ascertain. What they can do in the matter is not known or decided upon, but they have a solution under advisement. The assessment will be made against the lot number, and the owner-ship the board will leave for the auditor to find out.

The River Falling Slowly — Business of the Packets Good.

The river is rising slowly today, the result of the rains of Saturday and yesterday. There is a stage of about 12 feet here.

The Kanawha, from Charleston, and the Ben Hur, from Parkersburg, arrived at the wharf simultaneously at 6 o'clock last evening. Quite a crowd had collected at the wharf to greet arriving and departing friends and the stage landing from the wharf to the shore gave away under their weight. The towboat Coal City, which is owned by the coal combination, struck a pier of the railroad bridge at Stuebenville Saturday afternoon and sank one barge of coal. The boat proceeded on her journey. The Jim Wood dropped a barge at the Beaver bridge several days ago. The towboat Joseph B. Williams in passing Marietta damaged the Marietta wharfboat. The big steamer in flanking with her tow was carried by the strong current towards the wharfboat and struck it with her fantail. The Williams has a very large tow of coal for New Orleans.

WELLSVILLE INVENTION FROM WHICH THOUSANDS IN PROFITS ARE EXPECTED

New Process For Refining Petroleum Patented
and Fortune Thought to Await the Inventor.

W. D. Perkins, genius, expert and inventor, residing for the present at Wellsville, was in the city this morning on business in connection with his latest invention, in which Wellsville capitalists are interested and have the assurance that within the next two months they will realize thousands of dollars through the sale of it. It may be the means of introducing a new local industry.

It is a continuous process for refining petroleum and the manufacturers of oil and its products it is thought will undoubtedly be of value beyond computation. The invention is the result of several years' hard labor on the part of Mr. Perkins. He is a son of an official of the Standard Oil company and while assisting his father grasped the idea. Happening to drift into Wellsville about a year ago he found a few wealthy men who were owners of oil territory and soon interested them in his discovery. To complete it he was compelled to have the product at his command. When given the use of a practically deserted well located on the outskirts of Wells-ville, he started in with vigor and in a short time had the invention ready for patent.

Considerable time elapsed before the patent was granted but it is now in the hands of a prominent law firm of Pittsburgh and the Wellsville men were told only last week that the only thing that is holding back a sale of the patent at a fabulous price is the fact that two great oil corporations are after it. The one offering the most money will be the recipient of the prize.

The one great feature of the invention, and the one that makes it valuable, is that oil started into one end of the device in its crude state, is divided into four distinct products before leaving the receptacle. To separate the products different degrees of temperature are required. Four degrees are necessary to give the results and these four are contained in the invention. The process is continuous and so simple that a child can comprehend it. The present way of refining oil requires much unnecessary work. The oil is placed in a refining device and one part taken from it at a time.

POWER COMPANY SUED FOR $1,000

W. J. Wilson Asks Damages, Claiming He Was Assaulted and Put Off a Car.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—William J. Wilson, of East Liverpool, has brought suit against the United Power company, of that city, for $1,000 damages for an assault made upon him by one of the company's street car conductors. In his petition the plaintiff says that on the evening of November 16, 1902, he boarded a car at the corner of Fifth and Market streets, East Liverpool, to ride to his home in the East End. He alleges that he paid his fare and took his seat in the rear of the car, whereupon the conductor, Edward Dillon, began to annoy and insult him.

When the car entered the intersection of College street at the bank of the river, the river bank being high at this point and covered with broken dishes, he says that Dillon assaulted him and ordered him to leave the car. This he agreed to do, provided his fare was returned and the car stopped at a point where he could alight without endangering his life, but the conductor refused to return the fare or remove the car to a safe point. He dragged Wilson to the rear platform, where he struck him, and with the assistance of a fellow employee hurled him headlong from the car over the high embankment.

Wilson says he was so badly injured about the face, limbs and body that he was unable to work for 15 days. He further says that he conducted himself in an orderly manner while on the car and thinks he is entitled to damages in the sum stated for the wanton disgrace and injury to which he was subjected.

DRUMMER BOY A BIG SUCCESS

Last Performance Given—G. A. R. and Patriotic Societies Make Neat Sum.

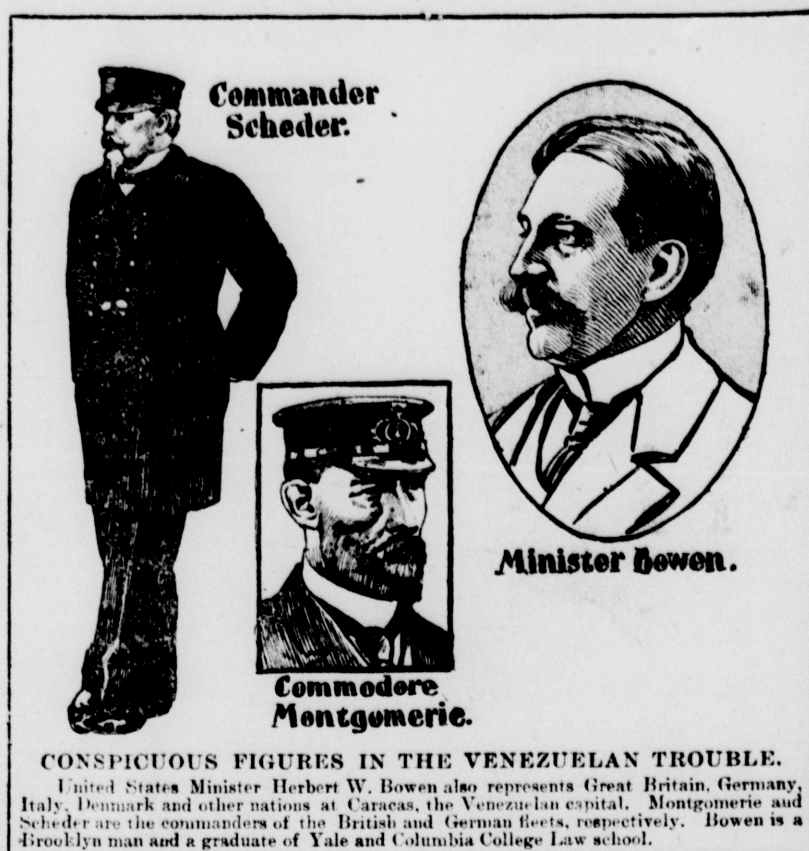

The last performance of "The Drummer Boy" was witnessed by a very large audience at the Grand Saturday night, and the Grand Army and auxiliaries will clear up a neat sum.

Every member of the cast did well. Harry Craig Nail, of Mansfield, who takes the leading role, is particularly clever, and though young in years is destined to take his place among the very best men in the profession. Mr. Nail has had considerable experience in opera, being a baritone of unusual ability.

An extra effort had been made at Saturday's performance to work up a few extra comedy features for the awkward squad, which was commanded by Jacob Shenkel as "Fatty" Smith, and the result was gratifying. The work of E. M. Fisher and George Bevington, two local minstrel men, was worthy of special mention.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are indebted to Stage Manager Joseph Bradley and his force of stage men. They had a difficult task in handling the big production, and they did it well.

NARROWLY ESCAPED TRIP TO LISBON

Charles Johnson Arrested And Fined For Striking Men Upon the Street.

That Charles Johnson escaped a trip to Lisbon for trial before common pleas court on a serious charge was due simply to leniency on the part of the man who was the cause of his arrest.

Thomas Anderson, of Monroe street, and William Sullivan, of Drury Lane, had occasion to go to the vicinity of the Thompson house at about 11 o'clock at night. In passing out Drury lane they saw a man standing in the dark and one of them jokingly made a remark. They continued on their errand forgetting that they had even seen a man standing in the lane. They were much surprised when they were hailed from the rear by a man who said: "You will insult me, will you?" They immediately recognized him as the man that they had passed in the lane and believing him to be drunk told him to go and attend to his own business. Without replying he rushed at Anderson and landed a terrific blow on the side of the head. He then made for Sullivan but he was defeated in his attempt.

The two men, both highly respected citizens, did not wish to become involved in a disgraceful encounter and after succeeding in getting the man to move, continued down Broadway. Meeting Officer Dunn they informed him of the happening and Johnson was soon under arrest. A charge of disorderly conduct was placed against him, though Messrs. Anderson and Sullivan were inclined to charge him with assault and battery. To the charge he pleaded guilty this morning and was fined $7.50.

MAN'S LEG NEARLY CUT OFF BY A FALL ON CUSPIDOR

John Powers, a machinist, met with a serious accident yesterday morning at about 9 o'clock. As a result he lies in a bed at Mrs. Anderson's boarding house on Market street, suffering intense pain and with all chances against his speedy recovery.

At the time designated he went to the bath room of the boarding house and was preparing to take a bath. Having run sufficient water for the purpose into the tub he also dropped a piece of soap in. It went directly to the bottom. Failing to notice this he stepped into the water. His foot struck the cake of soap, causing him to slip, and before he could regain his equilibrium he fell with much force backward to the floor. In alighting, his right leg above the knee came in violent contact with a china cuspidor, a part of which had been broken, leaving a sharp edge.

The force of the fall was so great

MEN NO LONGER IN THE BUSINESS

Insurance Agents Accused of Questionable Practices Are Not Operating Now.

Since the publication of an article in the News Review Saturday concerning the questionable transactions of two former young insurance men, a number of the local agents have been much exercised lest the statements made should injure their business. For the benefit of these parties, the News Review, while willing and ready to substantiate all statements made in the article in question, will say in justice to other agents that the men accused of questionable practices are not now engaged in the insurance business.

Though the article did not state what company or companies the parties represented, the local superintendent of the Prudential concern volunteered the information this morning that everything connected with his company, as far as agents are concerned, is regular.

Able to Leave the Hospital.

Mrs. C. Bucey, of the West End, left this morning for Pittsburgh to accompany her daughter, Nanette to her home in this city. STRONG OPPONENT FOR MR. ARCHER

Aspirant For Third Term as Senator Finds Political Troubles Multiplying.

PROSPECTS NOT ROSEATE

Secretary Laylin Finds the Code Silent as Regards the Division of Wards Into Precincts—Notes From the Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, December 22.—The troubles of State Senator Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire, are multiplying. In his candidacy for a third term he is to have strong opposition in his own county. Charles J. Heinlein, a Bridgeport attorney, announces he will compete with Archer for the Belmont county delegation. He is said to be of the Hanna persuasion, while Archer is a supporter of Foraker. Archer's political prospects do not seem rosy. Opposition at home means that he will be unable to leave Belmont county with a full delegation, so necessary to attain success. Those acquainted with the situation do not believe Archer can even control a majority of his county's delegates. The people of the joint district generally, if reports are to be relied upon, are unable to discover a reason which warrants him in asking them to violate a long established precedent against a third term. Columbiana county sentiment is against legislative third terms.

Secretary of State Laylin has made the discovery that the code is silent on the question of subdivision of wards into precincts in cities having no registration. Where there is no registration, the elections are under the control of the board of deputy state supervisors, but it develops that the new code gives them no power to re-arrange voting precincts at the first election. Mr. Laylin does not regard the situation as very serious. For the first election, he said, council could designate a precinct where the voting will take place, and after the first election, under the law, the board could subdivide the new wards into precincts of their own volition, or upon petition of the electors, providing over 400 votes were cast in the ward. Mr. Laylin also expressed the opinion that there would be no harm done either, were the board to make each ward one precinct, designating the most convenient voting place for election purposes, and then arrange for the new precincts later.

Well Known Young People to Appear On Stages of Local Theatres.

"The Twentieth Century Minstrels," composed mostly of local performers, will appear at the Cooper Opera house, Wellsville, tomorrow night. There are 26 in the cast, headed by U. G. Kane and Lones Connelly, of Youngstown, both well known minstrels. Professor Von Cook, late with Victor Herbert, is the leader of the orchestra. A street parade will be given in this city at 11:30 o'clock in the morning which will be followed by one in Wellsville. The program is replete with modern and up-to-date songs and monologues and those who appear in the cast have recognized ability. The first part, it is said, by those who have seen the rehearsals, to be gorgeous and equal if not superior to those of professional troupes. The farce, "The Filipinos' Holiday," which is to conclude the performance, is a great laughmaker. It is the intention of the management to give the performance in a number of nearby towns. It has secured the local opera house for New Year's evening.

News and Notes About The Potteries

QUAINT CHINESE POTTERY.

The little treaty port on the Chinese coast known as Swatow has given its name to an odd variety of glazed earthenware, which, long a favorite in the far east, has begun to appear in the markets of New York and other American cities. The name is coincidental. Swatow is a small place, whose chief industry is the provisioning of steamships and sailing vessels. But it is the port of the big city of Chow Chow Foo, whose population is said to be 1,500,000, and whose industries are famous in the Chinese Empire. Near the latter are inexhaustible beds of kaolin, blue, gray and other fine clays, which have supplied its kilns for centuries. Formerly it exported its ceramics overland to Canton.

The opening of the Swatow to the "foreign devils" diverted this traffic by degrees to the latter port, more especially that in ceramic goods destined for export to foreign lands. The wares in question were exhibited in Swatow shops, and found customers first in steamship officers and then in travelers. The stores flourished and ere long began to export on their own account. In this way the goods came to be known as Swatow ware.

The foundation is a gray earthenware with a thick opaque glaze, usually sea green, and the articles are fashioned after, or decorated with, marine forms. The commonest type is a wall pocket made in the shape of a crab, lobster, crawfish, rock cod, carp or mullet. The colorature varies. In the best specimens an attempt is made to reproduce the natural appearance of the animal imitated. In the larger number the glazing is in two shades, sea-green and sepia. Other styles of glazing are in seaweed brown and a crude vermillion suggesting the hue of a boiled lobster. The modeling, though coarse, is strong and effective.

Upon a higher plane are wall pockets shaped like vases, and also bowls, vases and jars, fashioned to represent basket work, bamboo ware, or other shapes, on which are placed crabs, shrimps, fishes, frogs, snails, starfish, and seaweeds. The body is glazed in a grayish-yellow neutral that lightens, or deepens, and the decorations in their natural colors. Some of the designs in this class are exceedingly attractive. None could be simpler than a fish bowl made apparently of a fisherman's rattan creel, which is half covered with cel grass and sea bladders, in which are prawns, crabs and fishes. A soup tureen was framed in imitation of a huge Ostraea bivalve up whose sides and over whose brim an army of little crabs were crawling as though eager to plunge into the soup within.

PEORIA NEWS.

Peoria, Ill., December 22.—The clay hands finished up here Thursday until January 5. The biscuit men will put in one more kiln and the ghost men two more next week and will loaf on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, starting Monday to work steadily. The firm and the shop committees held a meeting with the settlers out of both ends in regard to taking on more kilnmen. It was decided that the local get three more, one for the ghost and two for the biscuit. The firm wants nine ghost kilns a pay commencing on January 5. This will require seven or more biscuit kilns which will warrant steady work for the clay hands.

During the last electric arc lights will be placed in all the clay parts. Joe Patch will spend the holidays with his folks at Ford City.

Ed Davis will go to Findlay to visit relatives whom he has not seen for several years.

Walter Smith has accepted the big figger at Monmouth, Ill., and will start about the first of the year.

Local union No. 27 held a very interesting and important meeting on Tuesday evening. A committee was appointed to arrange a scale of wages to govern the dipping and biscuit ware-room girls who have not been receiving the proper wages.

DOES NOT LIKE CROOKSVILLE.

John Salsberry returned yesterday morning from Crooksville, where he has been employed for several weeks in the pottery located there. He will not return to Crooksville. Jack told the News Review's pottery man yesterday that he neither liked the town nor the people. He gives it as his opinion that unless the residents of the new pottery town cultivate a more cordial and neighborly feeling, it will be a difficult matter for the firm operating the pottery concern to induce men to locate there.

A WELSH REVIVAL.

Wales is not now famous for its production of pottery, so that the competition in pottery painting at the recent exhibition of Welsh industries at Liverpool was not a keen one. The exhibition was under the auspices of an association formed four or five years ago for the purpose of reviving and developing once flourishing Welsh industries which had been allowed to languish or all together lapse. To carry out the association's objects an influential committee was formed in London, with branches established in various parts of the municipality. The association seeks to attain its purpose, among other things, by enlisting patronesses, stewards, associates and members; by establishing depots for the sale of goods and by holding occasional exhibits and sales and encouraging village classes and workshops where handicrafts can be learned and practiced.

DEVONSHIRE CONCEITS.

Quaint little things in Devonshire pottery attract attention in many stores. These pieces are in a rich yellow, and cost from 50 cents to $3.75. They are mostly in the shape of quaint cups and jugs, and nearly every one of them has a rhyme plainly inscribed, in addition to a decoration in deep red and green. One of the rhymes is very familiar:

There's a saying old and musty,
Yet it is ever new—
It is never trouble trouble
Till trouble troubles you.

NO MERGER.

Reports have gained circulation that an effort was being made by the National Fireproofing company to secure control of the American Sewer Pipe company, which has holdings in Akron and Barberton, including the Hill Sewer Pipe company and the National Sewer Pipe company, with plants at Barberton. It was rumored that the merger of the companies was discussed at the meeting of the directors of the American Sewer Pipe company at Pittsburgh, Friday. George R. Hill, president and treasurer of the Hill Sewer Pipe company, was seen at his office Saturday and said:

"There is absolutely nothing in it."

Mr. Hill added the meeting of the board of directors of the American Sewer Pipe company at Pittsburgh Friday and there was no discussion whatever in regard to any merger.

INJURIES ARE SERIOUS.

Mrs. Eda Hoster, forelady of the biscuit warehouse at the Edward M. Knowles, is still confined to her home on Chestnut street as a result of the injuries sustained about two weeks ago by falling on an icy pavement. Her left leg is broken in two places and it will be several weeks before she is able to get around again.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Annie McMullen will spend her holiday vacation with relatives in Chicago.

Frank Dean, of the warehouse at the Deandson, will spend the holidays at Deandson.

Miss Lizzie Hart, of the Union, will leave tomorrow for a visit with relatives at St. Mary's.

Ottie Dyke has returned to his work as warehouse boy at the Union, after a serious illness.

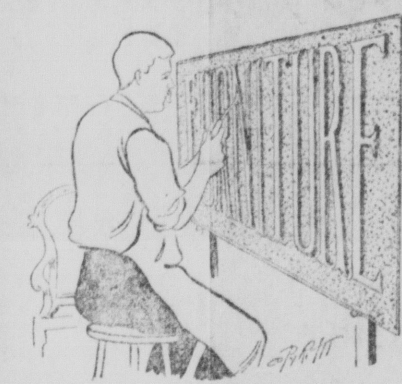

William Wyant, fireman at the K. T. & K., has been suffering severely the past few days with pleurisy.

Miss Eva Morrow, of the ghost warehouse at the Union, will spend her holiday vacation at Kensington.

Miss Maggie Smith, of the ghost warehouse at the Union, will visit relatives at Kensington during the holidays.

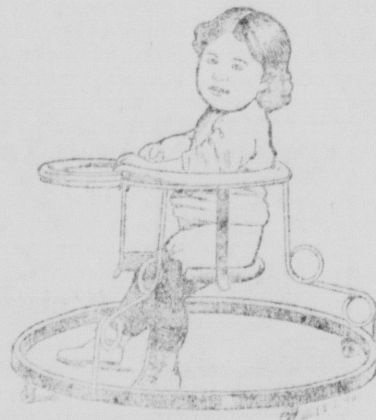

Miss Huldah Beabout, who has been one of the employees of the D. E. McNicol pottery for several years, has taken a position at the Thompson pottery in the decalcomania department.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

News and Notes About The Potteries

QUAINT CHINESE POTTERY.

The little treaty port on the Chinese coast known as Swatow has given its name to an odd variety of glazed earthenware, which, long a favorite in the far east, has begun to appear in the markets of New York and other American cities. The name is coincidental. Swatow is a small place, whose chief industry is the provisioning of steamships and sailing vessels. But it is the port of the big city of Chow Chow Foo, whose population is said to be 1,500,000, and whose industries are famous in the Chinese Empire. Near the latter are inexhaustible beds of kaolin, blue, gray and other fine clays, which have supplied its kilns for centuries. Formerly it exported its ceramics overland to Canton.

The opening of the Swatow to the "foreign devils" diverted this traffic by degrees to the latter port, more especially that in ceramic goods destined for export to foreign lands. The wares in question were exhibited in Swatow shops, and found customers first in steamship officers and then in travelers. The stores flourished and ere long began to export on their own account. In this way the goods came to be known as Swatow ware.

The foundation is a gray earthenware with a thick opaque glaze, usually sea green, and the articles are fashioned after, or decorated with, marine forms. The commonest type is a wall pocket made in the shape of a crab, lobster, crawfish, rock cod, carp or mullet. The colorature varies. In the best specimens an attempt is made to reproduce the natural appearance of the animal imitated. In the larger number the glazing is in two shades, sea-green and sepia. Other styles of glazing are in seaweed brown and a crude vermilion suggesting the hue of a boiled lobster. The modeling, though coarse, is strong and effective.

Upon a higher plane are wall pockets shaped like vases, and also bowls, vases and jars, fashioned to represent basket work, bamboo ware, or other shapes, on which are placed crabs, shrimps, fishes, frogs, snails, starfish, and seaweeds. The body is glazed in a grayish-yellow neutral tint light under, or sienna, and the decorations in their natural colors. Some of the designs in this class are exceedingly attractive. None could be simpler than a fish bowl made apparently of a fisherman's rattan reel, which is half covered with eel grass and sea bladders, in which are prawns, crabs and fishes. A soup tureen was framed in imitation of a huge Ostraea bivalve up whose sides and over whose brim an army of little crabs were crawling as though eager to plunge into the soup within.

PEORIA NEWS.

Peoria, Ill., December 22.—The clay hands finished up here Thursday until January 5. The biscuit men will put in one more kiln and the glost men two more next week and will loaf on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, starting Monday to work steadily. The firm and the shop committees held a meeting with the settlers out of both ends in regard to taking on more kilnmen. It was decided that the local get three more, one for the glost and two for the biscuit. The firm wants nine glost kilns a pay commencing on January 5. This will require seven or more biscuit kilns which will warrant steady work for the clay hands.

During the loaf electric are lights will be placed in all the clay parts. Joe Patch will spend the holidays with his folks at Ford City.

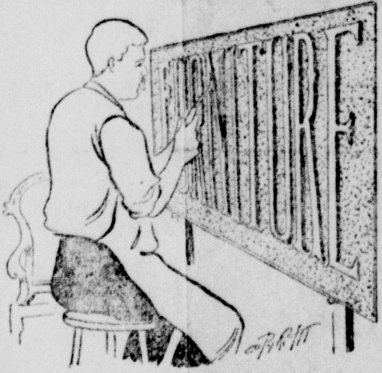

Ed. Davis will go to Findlay to visit relatives whom he has not seen for several years.

Walter Smith has accepted the big figger at Monmouth, Ill., and will start about the first of the year.

Local union No. 27 held a very interesting and important meeting on Tuesday evening. A committee was appointed to arrange a scale of wages to govern the dipping and biscuit ware-room girls who have not been receiving the proper wages.

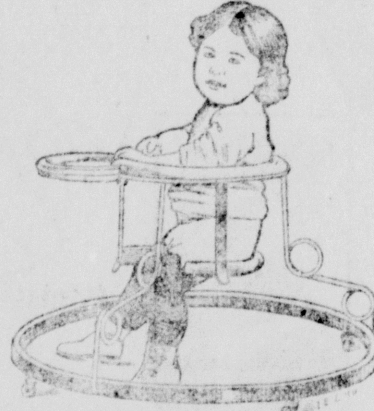

DOES NOT LIKE CROOKSVILLE.

John Sautsberry returned yesterday morning from Crooksville, where he has been employed for several weeks in the pottery located there. He will not return to Crooksville. Jack told the News Review's pottery man yesterday that he neither liked the town nor the people. He gives it as his opinion that unless the residents of the new pottery town cultivate a more cordial and neighborly feeling, it will be a difficult matter for the firm operating the pottery concern to induce men to locate there.

developing once flourishing Welsh industries which had been allowed to languish or all together lapse. To carry out the association's objects an influential committee was formed in London, with branches established in various parts of the municipality. The association seeks to attain its purpose, among other things, by enlisting patronesses, stewards, associates and members; by establishing depots for the sale of goods and by holding occasional exhibits and sales and encouraging village classes and workshops where handicrafts can be learned and practiced.

DEVONSHIRE CONCEITS.

Quaint little things in Devonshire pottery attract attention in many stores. These pieces are in a rich yellow, and cost from 50 cents to $3.75. They are mostly in the shape of quaint cups and jugs, and nearly every one of them has a rhyme plainly inscribed, in addition to a decoration in deep red and green. One of the rhymes is very familiar:

There's a saying old and musty,
Yet it is ever new—
It is never trouble trouble
Till trouble troubles you.

NO MERGER.

Reports have gained circulation that an effort was being made by the National Fireproofing company to secure control of the American Sewer Pipe company, which has holdings in Akron and Barberton, including the Hill Sewer Pipe company and the National Sewer Pipe company, with plants at Barberton. It was rumored that the merger of the companies was discussed at the meeting of the directors of the American Sewer Pipe company at Pittsburgh, Friday. George R. Hill, president and treasurer of the Hill Sewer Pipe company, was seen at his office Saturday and said:

"There is absolutely nothing in it."

Mr. Hill attended the meeting of the board of directors of the American Sewer Pipe company at Pittsburgh Friday and there was no discussion whatever in regard to any merger.

INJURIES ARE SERIOUS.

Mrs. Ella Hester, formerly of the biscuit warehouse at the Edward M. Knowles, is still confined to her home on Chestnut street as a result of the injuries sustained about two weeks ago by falling on an icy pavement. Her left leg is broken in two places and it will be several weeks before she is able to get around again.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Annie McMullen will spend her holiday vacation with relatives in Chicago.

Frank Dean, of the warehouse at the Dredgen, will spend the holidays at Denison.

Miss Lizzie Hart, of the Union, will leave tomorrow for a visit with relatives at St. Mary's.

Otto Dyke has returned to his work as warehouse boy at the Union, after a serious illness.

William Wyant, fireman at the K. T. & K., has been suffering severely the past few days with pleurisy.

Miss Eva Morrow, of the glost warehouse at the Union, will spend her holiday vacation at Kensington.

Miss Maggie Smith, of the glost warehouse at the Union, will visit relatives at Kensington during the holidays.

Miss Hullah Beabout, who has been one of the employees of the D. E. McNicol pottery for several years, has taken a position at the Thompson pottery in the decalcomania department.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, sprains, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

EAST END SPECIAL SERVICES

Of Great Interest at the Second U. P. Church—Coming Entertainment.

The services at the Second Presbyterian U. P. church yesterday were very interesting. In the morning Rev. D. W. McQuiston preached an appropriate Christmas sermon and in the evening he preached to the young men. His sermons are regarded as two of the best ever delivered in the East End. At night the church was crowded by old as well as young people who listened to a powerful sermon which told the young men of the many vices to which they seem to be easy victims.

A Christmas entertainment will be held in the church Thursday night and it promises to be a very interesting as special pains have been taken to make it a success.

CHRISTMAS SERMON

Large Congregations Present at the Second Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

Large congregations were present yesterday at both services at the Second Presbyterian church. Special services were held both morning and evening and Rev. N. M. Crowe preached an interesting Christmas sermon to an appreciative audience. Thursday night the regular Christmas treat and entertainment given by the Sabbath school will be held at the church.

Considerable time and trouble has been taken to prepare for these exercises and they promise to be the most interesting held in this church for years. A large attendance is expected.

Services Largely Attended.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt occupied the pulpit at the Erie street M. E. church yesterday and preached two interesting sermons. Both services were attended by large congregations and they were well repaid for being present. The regular Christmas entertainment will be held at the church on Thursday night and will be given by the members of the Sunday school. The children have been practicing for several weeks and expect to present an entertainment well worth seeing.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Martin Odaz and Michael J. O'Shay were visitors in Pittsburgh today.

T. A. Miller went to New Cumberland today to spend the holiday vacation with relatives.

William Buckle is a business visitor in Pittsburgh today.

Miss Sue Martin, of Sistersville, is the guest of Miss Pearl Finley, of the East End.

John W. Horger, son and daughter, left this morning for Pittsburgh, where they will visit relatives for a few days.

That is the result of a course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. We have special reference to persons with weak lungs and sensitive throats.

Scott's Emulsion does some things better than others. This is one of them. It has a peculiar action on the throat and lungs which gives them strength and makes them tough.

That's how Scott's Emulsion drives out coughs, colds and bronchitis. It keeps them out, too.

ASYLUM INMATE OWNS PROPERTY

A Tract Which Is Interfering With Wabash Railroad Plans Near Mingo.

Steubenville, December 22.—Out in the Massillon lives Jane Boyd, a happy and contented old woman who knows not what the outside world is like, for since she was a girl 21 years of age, nearly 60 years ago, she has lived in the asylum. She has no friends or relatives as far as is known, nobody cares for her because she is bereft of reason, and also because she has been shut out from the world so long, yet Jane Boyd is holding back the great Wabash railroad from passing through Jefferson county, and a few days ago it was revealed that she is worth $4,000 that will be handed out to her as soon as it is settled in the minds of the financiers of the Wabash system that they can get a clear title to the property they seek to purchase.

The farm, which is owned by Isaac Wesley Adams, contained 100 acres, being one of the finest farms probably in the county. It lies near the Cross Creek bridge, near Mingo. Along the Wabash right of way the dwelling on the farm now stands, but this was no barrier to the Wabash, which because of the expense of purchasing the house, and crossing the farm in a way that would greatly depreciate it in value, decided to purchase the 100 acres, and accordingly the sale was arranged with Mr. Adams, the farm bringing $20,000 or $200 an acre.

Before the deal was closed it was discovered that Miss Boyd owned one-fifth of the farm, and the purchase money will not be paid until a perfect title can be secured.

NICE FOR MAYOR

The President of Council One of the Leading Candidates For the Honor.

Since the first announcement of the candidacy of O. D. Nice for mayor, it has been conceded that he is a very strong candidate. Mr. Nice possesses many qualifications and advantages which recommend him to the voters. He was born in the state of Ohio, and has been a resident of East Liverpool for 23 years. For the past 19 years he has been in business here, and having grown up with the commercial interests of the city, is in touch with the needs of the community. He was instrumental in having organized a branch of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union in this city several years ago, and during its existence was prominent in labor circles.

Mr. Nice has twice been elected to a place in the city council, being now upon his second term as president of that body. If elected to the position he seeks he will make a good officer and a careful executive.

AT THE THEATER

With the innumerable dramatic companies of varied excellence now touring the country, the most discreet local manager is at a loss sometimes to know what to book, but from the flowing accounts of the press of the eastern states Manager Norris has made no mistake in his selection of the Myrtle & Harder Stock company, which opens a week's engagement at the Grand next Monday night in "A Nutmeg Match."

A Timely Suggestion. This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. THE EAST OHIO LEAD & ZINC CO. OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

CAPITAL STOCK, $500,000,
Divided Into 500,000 Shares of One Dollar Each
Full Paid and Non-Assessable.

Situated in the Great Fortuna Lead and Zinc District, Fortuna, Mo. This is beyond question the richest Lead and Zinc mining property extant. The property of this company consists of 5 acres of this wealth producing land.

It has been decided to place on the market a limited number of Treasury Shares at 30c per share, FULLY PAID.

From experience of companies operating in same field, this stock will, within 8 months, be paying large dividends, and will not be obtainable at any price.

Below we give Mine Inspector Marsteller's letter, which refers to an adjacent property:

Letter from Inspector of Mines, State of Missouri:

STATE OF MISSOURI. BUREAU OF MINES, MINING AND MINE INSPECTION.

GEORGE K. WILLIAMS, Inspector Lead and Zinc Mines. J. W. MARSTELLER, Secretary and Asst. Inspector.

City of Jefferson, Mo., Feb. 6th, 1902.

The mining property known as the Fortuna Mining Co., having recently changed hands, as well as management, and appreciating the importance which may be associated with a statement from this office, we decided upon a personal investigation of the Standard Lead & Smelting Co., and its management before making you a reply and this must be our excuse for delay.

Our position forbids advice concerning investments; but aside from this we feel free to furnish an opinion of the property as a mining proposition.

The company owns in fee simple (80) eighty acres of mineral land upon which prospect work with the drill shows it to be fine property. Surrounding the present producing shaft five (5) drill holes have been sunk embracing an area of four and one-half acres; if we take the center hole and a radius therefrom of 225 feet and assuming that the ore will show as well, as the shaft and drill holes prove, the writer agrees with three mining experts who have made estimates upon this small tract, and takes the lowest figures as the possible product of the four and one-half acres which figures $4,000,000 worth of ore. The ore from this mine is free from impurities, both lead and zinc than is found anywhere in this country and each of the ores bring the highest prices paid for such ores in this state. The great number of drill holes and the six shafts sunk, showing as they do the largest percentage of ores demonstrated and as yet experienced in the state, thoroughly proves this property and affords the strongest possible proof of the continuity of this exceedingly rich ore body.

A new mill with a capacity of fifteen (15) tons per hour, has been contracted for and is in process of erection and will be completed entire in a short time. A new shaft now being sunk is going down at the rate of three feet per day on proved ground and will enter the ore body not later than March the 10th.

The changed conditions and very manifest improvements already made at the mines, together with our personal investigation and acquaintance with the principal officers of this company, impresses us most favorably and we do not hesitate to state that the management gives promise of proving a first-class one. The parties most largely interested in this company financially, are not only familiar with the mining business, but the same parties will largely control its management and we believe with energy, prudence and fidelity. The very strongest proof that we have encountered as evidence of the faithful and conscientious development and management of the affairs of this company, is found in the fact that its management or those who control it, are men who are completely and unmistakably captivated with and by their property. This is not surprising, however, as we have yet to see the mining expert, or practical miner who, after examining the mine, is not in like manner affected.

We look for the production from this property after its plant is in thorough working order, to prove a marvel in the mining history of this state. This long letter will I trust evidence our faith in the property as a producer. Yours very truly,

J. W. MARSTELLER.

This property has been drilled and fully proved. Those persons disappointed in being unable to secure East Liverpool Lead & Zinc Co.'s stock, now have a chance to get something of equal value.

ASYLUM INMATE OWNS PROPERTY

A Tract Which is Interfering With Wabash Railroad Plans Near Mingo.

Steubenville, December 22.—Out in the Massillon lives Jane Boyd, a happy and contented old woman who knows not what the outside world is like, for since she was a girl 21 years of age, nearly 60 years ago, she has lived in the asylum. She has no friends or relatives as far as is known, nobody cares for her because she is bereft of reason, and also because she has been shut out from the world so long, yet Jane Boyd is holding back the great Wabash railroad from passing through Jefferson county, and a few days ago it was revealed that she is worth $4,000 that will be handed out to her as soon as it is settled in the minds of the financiers of the Wabash system that they can get a clear title to the property they seek to purchase.

The farm, which is owned by Isaac Wesley Adams, contained 100 acres, being one of the finest farms probably in the county. It lies near the Cross Creek bridge, near Mingo. Along the Wabash right of way the dwelling on the farm now stands, but this was no barrier to the Wabash, which because of the expense of purchasing the house, and crossing the farm in a way that would greatly depreciate it in value, decided to purchase the 100 acres, and accordingly the sale was arranged with Mr. Adams, the farm bringing $20,000 or $200 an acre.

Before the deal was closed it was discovered that Miss Boyd owned one-fifth of the farm, and the purchase money will not be paid until a perfect title can be secured.

The President of Council One of the Leading Candidates For the Honor.

Since the first announcement of the candidacy of O. D. Nice for mayor, it has been conceded that he is a very strong candidate. Mr. Nice possesses many qualifications and advantages which recommend him to the voters. He was born in the state of Ohio, and has been a resident of East Liverpool for 23 years. For the past 19 years he has been in business here, and having grown up with the commercial interests of the city, is in touch with the needs of the community. He was instrumental in having organized a branch of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union in this city several years ago, and during its existence was prominent in labor circles.

Mr. Nice has twice been elected to a place in the city council, being now upon his second term as president of that body. If elected to the position he seeks he will make a good officer and a careful executive.

AT THE THEATER

With the innumerable dramatic companies of varied excellence now touring the country, the most discreet local manager is at a loss sometimes to know what to book, but from the flowing accounts of the press of the eastern states Manager Norris has made no mistake in his selection of the Myrtle & Harder Stock company, which opens a week's engagement at the Grand next Monday night in "A Nutmeg Match."

National Reform Association.

Sharon, Pa., Dec. 22.—The Mercer County National Reform association held a convention in Mercer Saturday and by a unanimous vote Mormonism was denounced and a resolution was passed urging that legislative measures be passed by congress abolishing polygamy among the Mormons.

Fire at Ingleside School.

New Milford, Conn., Dec. 22.—Ingleside school, a large and fashionable seminary for young ladies, conducted by Mrs. William D. Black, was partially destroyed by a fire of unknown origin yesterday, and caused damage estimated at $40,000.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. NICE FOR MAYOR

The President of Council One of the Leading Candidates For the Honor.

Since the first announcement of the candidacy of O. D. Nice for mayor, it has been conceded that he is a very strong candidate. Mr. Nice possesses many qualifications and advantages which recommend him to the voters. He was born in the state of Ohio, and has been a resident of East Liverpool for 23 years. For the past 19 years he has been in business here, and having grown up with the commercial interests of the city, is in touch with the needs of the community. He was instrumental in having organized a branch of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union in this city several years ago, and during its existence was prominent in labor circles.

Mr. Nice has twice been elected to a place in the city council, being now upon his second term as president of that body. If elected to the position he seeks he will make a good officer and a careful executive.

With the innumerable dramatic companies of varied excellence now touring the country, the most discreet local manager is at a loss sometimes to know what to book, but from the flowing accounts of the press of the eastern states Manager Norris has made no mistake in his selection of the Myrtle & Harder Stock company, which opens a week's engagement at the Grand next Monday night in "A Nutmeg Match."

National Reform Association. Sharon, Pa., Dec. 22.—The Mercer County National Reform association held a convention in Mercer Saturday and by a unanimous vote Mormonism was denounced and a resolution was passed urging that legislative measures be passed by congress abolishing polygamy among the Mormons.

Fire at Ingleside School. New Milford, Conn., Dec. 22.—Ingleside school, a large and fashionable seminary for young ladies, conducted by Mrs. William D. Black, was partially destroyed by a fire of unknown origin yesterday, and caused damage estimated at $10,000.

A Timely Suggestion. This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

THE EAST OHIO LEAD & ZINC CO.
OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

CAPITAL STOCK, $500,000,

Divided Into 500,000 Shares of One Dollar Each Full Paid and Non-Assessable.

Situated in the Great Fortuna Lead and Zinc District, Fortuna, Mo. This is beyond question the richest Lead and Zinc mining property extant. The property of this company consists of 5 acres of this wealth producing land.

It has been decided to place on the market a limited number of Treasury Shares at 30c per share, FULLY PAID.

From experience of companies operating in same field, this stock will, within 8 months, be paying large dividends, and will not be obtainable at any price.

Below we give Mine Inspector Marsteller's letter, which refers to an adjacent property:

Letter from Inspector of Mines, State of Missouri:

STATE OF MISSOURI.
BUREAU OF MINES, MINING AND MINE INSPECTION.

GEORGE K. WILLIAMS, Inspector Lead and Zinc Mines. J. W. MARSTELLER, Secretary and Asst. Inspector.

The mining property known as the Fortuna Mining Co., having recently changed hands, as well as management, and appreciating the importance which may be associated with a statement from this office, we decided upon a personal investigation of the Standard Lead & Smelting Co., and its management before making you a reply and this must be our excuse for delay.

Our position forbids advice concerning investments; but aside from this we feel free to furnish an opinion of the property as a mining proposition.

The company owns in fee simple (80) eighty acres of mineral land upon which prospect work with the drill shows it to be fine property. Surrounding the present producing shaft, five (5) drill holes have been sunk embracing an area of four and one-half acres; if we take the center hole and a radius therefrom of 225 feet and assuming that the ore will show as well, as the shaft and drill holes prove, the writer agrees with three mining experts who have made estimates upon this small tract, and takes the lowest figures as the possible product of the four and one-half acres which figures $4,000,000 worth of ore. The ore from this mine is free from impurities, both lead and zinc than is found anywhere in this country and each of the ores bring the highest prices paid for such ores in this state. The great number of drill holes and the six shafts sunk, showing as they do the largest percentage of ores demonstrated and as yet experienced in the state, thoroughly prove this property and affords the strongest possible proof of the continuity of this exceedingly rich ore body.

A new mill with a capacity of fifteen (15) tons per hour, has been contracted for and is in process of erection and will be completed entire in a short time. A new shaft now being sunk is going down at the rate of three feet per day on proved ground and will enter the ore body not later than March the 10th.

The changed conditions and very manifest improvements already made at the mines, together with our personal investigation and acquaintance with the principal officers of this company, impresses us most favorably and we do not hesitate to state that the management gives promise of proving a first-class one. The parties most largely interested in this company financially, are not only familiar with the mining business, but the same parties will largely control its management and we believe with energy, prudence and fidelity. The very strongest proof that we have encountered as evidence of the faithful and conscientious development and management of the affairs of this company, is found in the fact that its management or those who control it, are men who are completely and unmistakably captivated with and by their property. This is not surprising, however, as we have yet to see the mining expert, or practical miner who, after examining the mine, is not in like manner affected.

We look for the production from this property after its plant is in thorough working order, to prove a marvel in the mining history of this state. This long letter will I trust evidence our faith in the property as a producer.

Yours very truly,

J. W. MARSTELLER. This property has been drilled and fully proved. Those persons disappointed in being unable to secure East Liverpool Lead & Zinc Co.'s stock, now have a chance to get something of equal value.

Application may be made at the offices of the Company, rooms 8 and 9, Potters' National Bank Building, and subscriptions may be paid to the First National Bank, Trustee.

Books will positively be closed as soon as this limited allotment is subscribed.

COUNCIL
E. L. LIVERPOOL, O.
MONDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1902.

The Hepburn pure food bill has passed the house. This fact, in connection with the experiments now being conducted by the government to demonstrate the effects of adulterated food on the human system, leads to a strong hope that there will soon be laws in existence which will protect the people against the purchase and use of compounds dangerous to health. The prohibition of adulteration will apply not only to food, but to drinks and drugs. Government laws are generally more stringently enforced than ordinary statutes, offenders knowing full well that when they fall into the clutches of Uncle Sam's minions they are not likely to escape with light punishment. No penalty is too severe for the grasping manufacturer who, to add to his gains, "doctors" food products with articles which are known to be injurious to the consumer. Adulteration has become alarming in many classes of food, and it is time that a government which cares for the welfare and health of its people gave the matter its earnest attention.

A matter which the city council should carefully consider is that of salaries under the new code. The laborer is worthy of his hire, but extravagance is not to be tolerated. There appears to be no disposition on the part of council, however, to fix unreasonable salaries. One matter that should not be overlooked is the mayor's compensation. In this city he will act as police magistrate, and Attorney General Sheets says that a mayor so acting is entitled to the present established fees in addition to the salary fixed by council. Council must take this decision into account in fixing his pay. The city cannot afford to pay him the $1,800 proposed as the mayor's salary when the police magistrate's fees will swell his compensation fully that amount.

On Saturday the ninety-ninth anniversary of the Louisiana purchase was celebrated in the great states created from the former French possession. And in all the addresses made on the occasion not a word was uttered against the policy of "imperialism and expansion" which made the existence of these states possible. Time has demonstrated the wisdom of Jefferson's course, just as it will that of McKinley.

If you want to make a Christmas gift that will bring unalloyed pleasure, look around for some home which Santa Claus is likely to overlook and place it there. Such homes are few in East Liverpool, but they exist, even if you do not know it. The Salvation Army makes it its business to find them, and donations placed with its officers will be used where they will do most good.

Work is to begin next spring to eliminate railroad grade crossings from Cleveland. It is estimated that it will take 10 years' labor and an expenditure of $10,000,000 to accomplish the task, but the protection that will be afforded will be worth the cost, great as it is going to be.

The holiday edition of the East Liverpool Morning Tribune was a large and most attractive one. The paper is

General Debility

Day in and out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself. Food does not strengthen. Sleep does not refresh. It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy.—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers. For this condition take

Hood's Sarsaparilla

In the hands of men who are no novices in the art of newspaper-making, and the results of their well-directed efforts are manifest. The oldest daily in the city extends hearty congratulations to the youngest on its enterprise and prosperity.

The allies, England and Germany, are willing that Uncle Sam shall arbitrate their dispute with Venezuela. The whole world knows how square and honest the old gentleman is; still, repeated public acknowledgements by outsiders of belief in his wisdom and fairmindedness can but be viewed with satisfaction by 80,000,000 Americans.

Marconi has succeeded in sending wireless messages across the ocean. They are not single letters of the Morse code, but connected dispatches. This marvelous achievement marks a triumph in twentieth century invention the importance of which it is hard to estimate.

Venezuela has had 104 wars in seventy years. The number would undoubtedly have been larger if it had not been for rain and darkness and other circumstances that were beyond human control.

The shortest day of the year has come and gone, but many a purchaser of Christmas gifts is likely to find another short day when he comes to figure up his cash.

It is about time for the ice companies to begin announcing that this season's crop is a failure.

The Christmas pocketbook will look attenuated before the end of the week.

OBITUARY

Isaac Samler.

The news of the death from heart trouble of Isaac Samler, at Lebanon, Pa., was received here this morning. He was the father of Messrs. Samuel and Daniel Samler, proprietors of the Leader Store, and Mrs. William Erlanger, Jr. One other son, Lewis, at whose home his death occurred, survives him. The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning in Philadelphia, where the interment will be made. Messrs. Samler and Mr. and Mrs. William Erlanger, Jr., left here this afternoon to be present at the last sad rites.

Mr. Samler was born in the village of Ichenhausen, Bavaria, 74 years ago and came to this country when he was 16. He located in South Carolina and engaged in the mercantile business. He prospered and had amassed quite a fortune when the civil war brought him disaster. He was ruined financially and left for the north, locating at Wilmington, Del. He established a retail clothing business that prospered immensely during the three years that he controlled it. He sold the business and located in Philadelphia as a wholesale clothing merchant. He retired from active life 14 years ago, having amassed a considerable fortune. His illness dates back two years when his wife, whom he loved devotedly, died. The loss preyed upon his mind and had much to do with hastening his death.

The Leader Store will be closed until after the funeral as a mark of respect.

If you want to make a Christmas gift that will bring unalloyed pleasure, look around for some home which Santa Claus is likely to overlook and place it there. Such homes are few in East Liverpool, but they exist, even if you do not know it. The Salvation Army makes it its business to find them, and donations placed with its officers will be used where they will do most good.

Work is to begin next spring to eliminate railroad grade crossings from Cleveland. It is estimated that it will take 10 years' labor and an expenditure of $10,000,000 to accomplish the task, but the protection that will be afforded will be worth the cost, great as it is going to be.

OBITUARY

Isaac Samler.

The news of the death from heart trouble of Isaac Samler, at Lebanon, Pa., was received here this morning. He was the father of Messrs. Samuel and Daniel Samler, proprietors of the Leader store, and Mrs. William Erlanger, Jr. One other son, Lewis, at whose home his death occurred, survives him. The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning in Philadelphia, where the interment will be made. Messrs. Samler and Mr. and Mrs. William Erlanger, Jr., left here this afternoon to be present at the last sad rites.

Mr. Samler was born in the village of Ichenhausen, Bavaria, 74 years ago and came to this country when he was 16. He located in South Carolina and engaged in the mercantile business. He prospered and had amassed quite a fortune when the civil war brought him disaster. He was ruined financially and left for the north, locating at Wilmington, Del. He established a retail clothing business that prospered immensely during the three years that he controlled it. He sold the business and located in Philadelphia as a wholesale clothing merchant. He retired from active life 14 years ago, having amassed a considerable fortune. His illness dates back two years when his wife, whom he loved devotedly, died. The loss preyed upon his mind and had much to do with hastening his death.

The Leader Store will be closed until after the funeral as a mark of respect.

The Hepburn pure food bill has passed the house. This fact, in connection with the experiments now being conducted by the government to demonstrate the effects of adulterated food on the human system, leads to a strong hope that there will soon be laws in existence which will protect the people against the purchase and use of compounds dangerous to health. The prohibition of adulteration will apply not only to food, but to drinks and drugs. Government laws are generally more stringently enforced than ordinary statutes, offenders knowing full well that when they fall into the clutches of Uncle Sam's minions they are not likely to escape with light punishment. No penalty is too severe for the grasping manufacturer who, to add to his gains, "doctors" food products with articles which are known to be injurious to the consumer. Adulteration has become alarming in many classes of food, and it is time that a government which cares for the welfare and health of its people gave the matter its earnest attention.

A matter which the city council should carefully consider is that of salaries under the new code. The laborer is worthy of his hire, but extravagance is not to be tolerated. There appears to be no disposition on the part of council, however, to fix unreasonable salaries. One matter that should not be overlooked is the mayor's compensation. In this city he will act as police magistrate, and Attorney General Sheets says that a mayor so acting is entitled to the present established fees in addition to the salary fixed by council. Council must take this decision into account in fixing his pay. The city cannot afford to pay him the $1,800 proposed as the mayor's salary when the police magistrate's fees will swell his compensation fully that amount.

On Saturday the ninety-ninth anniversary of the Louisiana purchase was celebrated in the great states created from the former French possession. And in all the addresses made on the occasion not a word was uttered against the policy of "imperialism and expansion" which made the existence of these states possible. Time has demonstrated the wisdom of Jefferson's course, just as it will that of McKinley.

WELLSVILLE

DRAGGED FOR 200 FEET

Wellsville Man Knocked From a Street Car And Very Badly Injured.

Robert L. Jones, who resides on Main street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, was the victim of a bad accident Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. He was going to East Liverpool and was standing on the step of the front platform of one of the small green street cars. The car was so crowded that it was resting flat upon its springs. When it arrived at the bridge which crosses Little Yellow creek, Jones was struck on his side by a telegraph pole which stood a foot and a half from the car. He was knocked under the car and was dragged for nearly 200 feet.

But for the fact that Jones held onto the car he would have undoubtedly had both of his legs taken off. He was badly bruised all over, received two deep gashes in the head, had three of his front teeth knocked out and also had one of his ankles badly lacerated by the brake in under the car which his foot struck. He was immediately carried to his home by friends who were going to East Liverpool with him. Dr. A. B. Holland was called and dressed the man's injuries.

Jones is only about 18 years of age and is employed on the C. & P. road. He is a bricklayer by trade. He was resting well last evening although his injuries still give him considerable pain.

TALKING TO SANTA

Lots of Little Folks, Anxious for the Privilege, Trouble Telephone Girl.

The telephone girls at both the Bell and Columbiana County telephone exchanges in this city have received many calls lately from little folks around the city inquiring for Santa Claus. The operators are at a loss to know just whom to connect the children with, but as a rule get out of the difficulty in some manner.

Saturday evening the night operator at the Columbiana County exchange received a call from one of the little tots asking for Santa Claus. Their conversation follows: "Hello, Central! I want to talk with Santa Claus." The operator decided to play Santa Claus for the occasion, and after ringing in on the line answered "Hello" in such a masculine tone of voice that the little one immediately took her for Santa. "Say, Santa Claus, I've been an awfully good girl since you were here last Christmas and I want you to bring me lots of nice things when you come around this week." Receiving a favorable reply from the supposed Santa Claus the little girl turned away from the phone and told her parents that she had really talked with Santa Claus.

A REVOLVER SHOT

Fired on the Street Sunday Evening Led to Ellis Stoffel's Arrest.

Ellis Stoffel, who, it will be remembered, served time at the Canton workhouse, being implicated in robbing Hay's candy store in the West End, got into trouble again last evening and will probably have to pay a fine. While walking along Main street in the vicinity of J. J. Dowling's new residence after church Stoffel, in company with two other small boys, pulled a 32-caliber revolver out of his overcoat pocket and shot in the air.

Officer Elliott happened to be near by at the time. He placed all three boys under arrest and took them to the mayor's office. The mayor was telephoned for and soon arrived. Officer Elliott explained the case as he had seen it. The mayor demanded the revolver from Stoffel and it was turned over. The two boy friends of Stoffel were turned loose by the mayor, after which Stoffel was given a strong lecture. He was finally released upon his own recognizance and will have to appear before the city executive later.

New Police Uniforms.

The new police overcoats which were ordered some time ago by Mayor Fogo for the city police force arrived this morning from Cincinnati. The policemen will commence wearing them after Christmas. They are a long frock coat, double breasted and have large collars for stormy weather. New caps have also been ordered.

Mill Shut Down.

The mill of the American Tin Plate company, in this city, was completely shut down for three hours Saturday. One of the engineers allowed the oil cups, on one of the engines, to run dry, thus making the bearings so hot that the engine had to be stopped.

evening and that he had all plans laid for robbing the jewelry store of M. R. Shingler, on Main street. Sunday afternoon Chief Houser and one of the officers of the local force learned of this and soon had the crackman spotted. The man shortly after 9 o'clock disappeared and was not afterwards seen by any of the police force. He had evidently learned that he was being spotted.

Will Discuss New Code.

A special meeting of council will be held this evening for the purpose of taking up the work in the new code. The re-districting of the city will be disposed of and the salaries for the officials will probably be decided upon.

DRAGGED FOR 200 FEET

Wellsville Man Knocked From a Street Car And Very Badly Injured.

Robert L. Jones, who resides on Main street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, was the victim of a bad accident Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. He was going to East Liverpool and was standing on the step of the front platform of one of the small green street cars. The car was so crowded that it was resting flat upon its springs. When it arrived at the bridge which crosses Little Yellow creek, Jones was struck on his side by a telegraph pole which stood a foot and a half from the car. He was knocked under the car and was dragged for nearly 200 feet.

But for the fact that Jones held onto the car he would have undoubtedly had both of his legs taken off. He was badly bruised all over, received two deep gashes in the head, had three of his front teeth knocked out and also had one of his ankles badly lacerated by the brake in under the car which his foot struck. He was immediately carried to his home by friends who were going to East Liverpool with him. Dr. A. B. Holland was called and dressed the man's injuries.

Jones is only about 18 years of age and is employed on the C. & P. road. He is a bricklayer by trade. He was resting well last evening although his injuries still give him considerable pain.

TALKING TO SANTA

Lots of Little Folks, Anxious for the Privilege, Trouble Telephone Girl.

The telephone girls at both the Bell and Columbiana County telephone exchanges in this city have received many calls lately from little folks around the city inquiring for Santa Claus. The operators are at a loss to know just whom to connect the children with, but as a rule get out of the difficulty in some manner.

Saturday evening the night operator at the Columbiana County exchange received a call from one of the little tots asking for Santa Claus. Their conversation follows: "Hello, Central! I want to talk with Santa Claus." The operator decided to play Santa Claus for the occasion, and after ringing in on the line answered "Hello" in such a masculine tone of voice that the little one immediately took her for Santa. "Say, Santa Claus, I've been an awfully good girl since you were here last Christmas and I want you to bring me lots of nice things when you come around this week." Receiving a favorable reply from the supposed Santa Claus the little girl turned away from the phone and told her parents that she had really talked with Santa Claus.

A REVOLVER SHOT

Fired on the Street Sunday Evening Led to Ellis Stoffel's Arrest.

Ellis Stoffel, who, it will be remembered, served time at the Canton workhouse, being implicated in robbing Hay's candy store in the West End, got into trouble again last evening and will probably have to pay a fine. While walking along Main street in the vicinity of J. J. Dowling's new residence after church Stoffel, in company with two other small boys, pulled a 32-calibre revolver out of his overcoat pocket and shot in the air.

Officer Elliott happened to be near by at the time. He placed all three boys under arrest and took them to the mayor's office. The mayor was telephoned for and soon arrived. Officer Elliott explained the case as he had seen it. The mayor demanded the revolver from Stoffel and it was turned over. The two boy friends of Stoffel were turned loose by the mayor, after which Stoffel was given a strong lecture. He was finally released upon his own recognizance and will have to appear before the city executive later.

New Police Uniforms.

The new police overcoats which were ordered some time ago by Mayor Fogo for the city police force arrived this morning from Cincinnati. The policemen will commence wearing them after Christmas. evening and that he had all plans laid for robbing the jewelry store of M. R. Shingler, on Main street. Sunday afternoon Chief Houser and one of the officers of the local force learned of this and soon had the crackman spotted. The man shortly after 9 o'clock disappeared and was not afterwards seen by any of the police force. He had evidently learned that he was being spotted.

MONSTER PETITION FOR IMPROVEMENT

MEMORIAL IN THE INTERESTS OF LOCKS AND DAMS.
Will Be Circulated Everywhere in the Ohio Valley And Laid Before Congress.

Wheeling, December 22.—A monster petition is to be presented to congress which will contain the names of thousands of the Ohio valley, asking the national legislative body to appropriate sufficient money to carry out the project of building locks and dams on the river and making the stream navigable the year around. The petition, which is called a "memorial," is the result of the deliberations of the Ohio Valley Improvement association convention which met at Parkersburg last month.

Hullihen Quarrier, of this city, who is a member of the executive committee of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, has received a copy of the memorial for inspection and suggestions as to any change of the wording of the document, which is not yet ready for distribution.

As stated this memorial will be a monster affair. It is intended to get thousands upon thousands of signers, as it will be circulated everywhere throughout the Ohio valley. It should have some effect on congress, as the members of that body will then learn the attitude of the people of this valley on that question. Inasmuch as the improvement as one which affects about 10,000,000 persons the petition should have some weight, at least, with congress.

At a recent meeting of the board of trade Congressman Dovenor made a suggestion that such a petition be circulated when talking on the subject of river improvement to that body. He said at that time he thought such action would have more weight on congress than any other single thing. His suggestion was to have every man, woman and child in the valley sign it. If this is done the petition would contain millions of signatures. The idea originated, it is thought, with Captain Dovenor.

"I am surprised at Congressman Burton's attitude on the question of improvement of the Ohio river," said Hullihen Quarrier in conversation with a reporter yesterday. "Although he represents the territory in which Cleveland is located in Ohio, I thought he would favor improvement of this river. He is chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, you know, and when the bill was presented to the committee asking for an appropriation for surveying the Ohio from the mouth of the Miami to Cairo it was pigeon-holed and he stated he was not favorable to it."

"The river has never been surveyed from the Miami to Cairo and we wanted to see the work carried out. However, we hope to have some favorable legislation go through congress this year. We want an appropriation sufficient to carry out the entire project of damming the river in 15 years. That would require about $4,000,000 a year, but, of course, we do not expect to get all we ask."

REALM OF SPORTS GAME OF HOCKEY BECOMING POPULAR

GREAT WINTER SPORT EASILY UNDERSTOOD.

The Rules are Simple—Some of the Points to Be Observed.

Hockey, the great winter sport of Canada, is an evolution of shinny, the same as base ball is a development of the old game of rounders.

Instead of the tin can or block of wood the boys knock about the ice in shinny, the hockey player uses a "puck," or circular disc of hard rubber. In place of the shinny player's broomstick or crooked club, the hockey player uses a light regulation stick, broad and curved at the business end. At each end of the hockey rink is a goal, consisting of a "cage" or "net." Into this the players "shoot" the puck. Each successful shot counts one for the side making it.

The theory of the game is a great deal like that of foot ball. Each team consists of seven men. Four are "forwards," known as right and left "wing," "center" and "rover." They do most of the offensive work or goal shooting. The three men who look after the defense of the goal are the "cover point," "point" and "goal keeper." The puck is put in play in the middle of the rink by the two centers. As in lacrosse, each tries, with his stick, to get possession of the puck on the "face off" and to pass it to a member of his own team.

The rules of the game are simple, in the main. The offside rule, the most troublesome, will be readily understood by the American boy, as it is similar to the same rule in foot ball. It is not necessary, however, for every player to be on the side when the ball is in play. He must be on side to receive the puck on a pass from one of his own men, though, and is not allowed to loaf near his opponents' goal waiting for a chance to receive the puck and shoot it into the cage. A player may take the ball at any time when it was last touched by an opposing player. The penalty for an offside play is to take the puck back to where the play started and face it, or put it in play again.

Another rule that may trouble the beginner is the one which forbids touching the puck with the hands. The goal keeper is the only player who has this privilege. The other players are sometimes allowed to catch the flying disc in the air, but are never allowed to carry it other than with the stick on the ice. Minor regulations prohibit raising the stick above the knee and tripping or "scragging," but these are not always enforced. In fact, all the rules of the game vary in different parts of Canada, where the game originated, and is perhaps most skillfully played, though the eastern colleges of the United States have tried to establish uniform regulations.

Hockey players usually wear the skates especially designed for the game, with long, light pointed blades and plates to be attached with screws to the soles of the shoe. Weight counts for nothing in the game, as a light player who is swift on his feet and handy with his stick can usually play all around a heavier man. Team work is as necessary as in foot ball and faithful training is needed to keep the players in breath through the two halves. With the quick dash of the line down the ice, the slashing of the sticks, the clatter of the skates, the check of the opposing forwards and the frequent close shots at goal, all at furious speed, the game put up by two well trained teams is as thrilling as anything in sport.

NO CONSOLIDATION, SAYS BAN JOHNSON

Will Be Two Leagues, And Not One 12-Club Circuit, As Result of Peace Conference.

President Johnson still talks hopefully of peace between the National and American baseball leagues. He believes a satisfactory compromise can be reached, but declines to mention the probable terms.

"Since the National League's letter reached me," says Johnson, "I have declined to discuss the question of what terms we will accept and do not intend to do so now in advance of the conference. I think I can say without jeopardizing any interests, however, that there will be two leagues and not a consolidation into a twelve club circuit. I find the sentiment strong all throughout the country in favor of two leagues, and there are not more than two or three club owners in favor of returning to twelve clubs. There are none in the American league."

"Our circuit will be Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Cleve-

A STARTLING REPORT

One That Speaks Volumes—Tells of a Great Good Done—Of a Certain Cure—For the Nervous—Weak And Sleepless.

Mr. James Peppin, of No. 302 Third street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' Drug Store are a fine nerve tonic. As a result of hard work I was generally debilitated—nervous and could not sleep. I needed the rebuilding and found in the Nerve Pills the medicine needed. They have the power to steady and strengthen the nerves—give restful sleep and general vigor to the system at large."

land, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis. There is a coterie of men in Pittsburgh ready to make a handsome offer for the Detroit franchise and club, but no transfer can be made without the league's ratification, and I do not know that the league will ratify."

Famous Athlete Dead.

James E. Morse, an old-time amateur athlete of distinction, died of typhoid fever at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Ed Morse was 35 years old and at one time he was rated as the best high jumper in New England. At the Yale games March, 1890, he was scratch man in the high jump and he won first prize with 5 feet 8 1/2 inches. Some time later he beat Fearing, the crack Harvard jumper, with a jump of 5 feet 10 inches, incidentally establishing a world's record for that event, as competitors used rubber shoes only. He retired from athletics about eight years ago.

Llewellyn Matched.

"Kid" Russell, of Cleveland, has accepted the challenge of Tommy Llewellyn, the Akron wrestler, and the men will probably get together either in that city or in Akron in the near future. Llewellyn is one of the best lightweight wrestlers in this section of the state and seems to be able to give a good account of himself. He has appeared in this city several times in exhibition bouts and it is the opinion of sporting men here that he will give any man of his weight in the state a hard fight.

Good Will Arranged.

"Kid" Carter and George Gardner meet for a six-round fight at the Lyceum Athletic club, Chicago, December 29. Carter has lost three times to Gardner, but never within the six-round limit, and the Brooklyn lad figures that he has a good chance to reverse the former verdict in a six-round battle.

DR. EVANS RELEASED

Fight for His Extradition to Pennsylvania Not Yet Ended.

Judge W. W. Hole at Youngstown Saturday rendered a decision in the Dr. John M. Evans extradition case, upholding the decision of Probate Judge Ewing granting a writ of habeas corpus. The prosecution, however, is making a last determined stand to get Dr. Evans into Pennsylvania and asked that a journal entry be made granting a stay of execution until the matter could be carried up to the circuit court. Judge Hole will render his decision today. There are stockholders of the company in East Liverpool who are interested in the outcome of the case.

For nearly three months this case has been fought in probate and common pleas courts. Dr. Evans was charged by certain of the directors of the Keystone Gold & Copper Mining company, all Pittsburgh men, with larceny of 4,000 shares of the stock of the company. Requisition papers were secured and Dr. Evans applied for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Ewing in probate court decided that Dr. Evans was not a fugitive from justice and also that the papers in the case were not sufficient to hold him. Dr. Evans, who is from Phoenix, Ariz., is released on bond.

Like Father, Like Son.

Wheeling, December 22.—One of the most remarkable coincidences in local politics is that of the mayoralty race between Andrew T. Sweeney and Harry W. McClure, whose fathers in the year 1879 were opposing candidates for the same office. Like their fathers, the sons are indulging in a most friendly contest. Captain John McClure and Andrew Jackson Sweeney, fathers of the present candidates, were bosom friends, and there is no enmity existing between their sons.

F. F. EDWARDS, PROPRIETOR OF THE HOTEL EDWARDS OF EAST LIVERPOOL, O., RECOMMENDS

FOR KIDNEY TROUBLE

—READ WHAT HE SAYS—

East Liverpool, Ohio, Nov. 19th, 1902.
The Life Plant Co., Canton, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—I have used nearly two bottles of LIFE PLANT and must say it is a fine medicine for the kidneys. It is the best medicine I have ever taken and I recommend it to all who are suffering from kidney diseases.

F. F. EDWARDS, 136 Third St.

Kidney diseases are very common and very dangerous. They cause more deaths than any other affliction, and yet they can be cured, quickly and easily by taking LIFE PLANT. An improper treatment is worse than none. It excites the kidneys to unusual action for a time, causing a seeming benefit, but the result is increased weakness.

LIFE PLANT leaves you permanently cured or your money is refunded. Whatever the stage of your trouble, your druggist will warrant that LIFE PLANT will succeed with you.

The fearful fatality caused by kidney diseases is the result of neglect and wrong treatment. Commence now by using the only guaranteed treatment, LIFE PLANT. It's a wonder.

LEGAL ORDINANCE 738.

Be it ordained and enacted by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, That Section 1. The territory within the city is hereby divided into four wards, as follows:

Section 2. The First ward shall comprise the territory bounded by commencing at a point on the shore of the Ohio river, at low water mark, and running thence northwardly at an imaginary line which intersects the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad and the old county road at what it known as Ralston's Crossing and on in a northwardly direction to the corporation line; thence east along the corporation line to the state line; thence in a southwardly direction along the state line to low water mark in the Ohio river; thence down the Ohio river to the place of beginning.

Section 3. The Second ward shall comprise the territory beginning at the point in low water mark in the Ohio, at the west boundary of said First ward, and running thence west down the river, at low water mark, to a point in the center of Broadway; thence northwardly in the center of Broadway to the center of East Market or Calcutta Road where the same is intersected by Broadway; thence on in the center of East Market street and Calcutta Road to the corporation line; thence in an eastwardly direction and following the corporation line to the west line of the first ward; thence south along the west side of said First ward, thence south along the west side of said First ward to the place of beginning.

Section 4. The Third ward shall comprise the territory beginning at the center of Broadway at the west line of the Second ward and running thence down the Ohio river at low water mark to the center of Jackson street; thence in a northwardly direction in the center of Jackson street to the center of Seventh street; thence east in the center of Seventh street to the center of West Market street; thence north in the center of West Market street to the center of Trentvale street, continuing on in a northwardly direction in the center of Trentvale street to the corporation line; thence east along the corporation line to the Calcutta road; thence in a southwardly direction along the corporation line and along the west line of the Second ward to the place of beginning.

Section 5. The Fourth ward shall comprise the territory beginning at the point in low water mark in the Ohio river at the west line of the Third ward and running thence down the Ohio river, at low water mark to the west corporation line; thence in a northwardly direction along the west corporation line to the north corporation line; thence east along the north corporation line to the center of Trentvale street; thence in a southwardly direction along the west line of the Third ward to the place of beginning.

Section 6. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force at the earliest period allowed by law.

"Putting Off" Till Some Other Day that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

Its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic flatulency, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine to the medical profession is Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and the simple way to find out if you need it to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it isropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, and a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing urine, the staining of linen by your urine.

It is for sale by all druggists in the 50 Cent Size and the regular 100 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

JOHN THE BAPTIST AND HIS MESSAGE

Text For a Powerful Sermon by Rev. C. G. Jordan at the Presbyterian Church.

LESSON TO ALL THE WORLD

In the Words Cried in the Wilderness. Other Sermons Appropriate to Christmas Time Delivered in the City Yesterday.

Services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday were of unusual interest. Special music had been prepared and the singing both morning and evening was a feature greatly enjoyed by two large congregations.

Rev. C. G. Jordan took for his text in the morning the third verse of the first chapter of Mark: "The voice of one crying in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight."

Rev. Mr. Jordan took up the strange character of John the Baptist, and showed that in speech, manner and dress he was different from other men. Stranger still was the message imparted in the words of the text. John was a great and good man, but he was announcing the coming of one greater still. This made his message of the utmost importance. The pastor interpreted the meaning of the scriptures as indicating that it was John's errand to prepare as perfectly as possible the hearts of the people to receive Jesus Christ.

The people were to be prayerful, hopeful and repentant, in order that they could be brought face to face with God with the right spirit. If this could be accomplished Christ would find the way prepared. The speaker pointed out the absolute necessity for the proper preparation. Paul, upon one occasion had neglected to do this, with the result that his mission had failed. At this Christmas time we should take Christ to our hearts. He came as a child. He comes today the same as He did centuries ago. We should open our hearts to receive Him, but there must be preparation—a complete turning around. Mr. Jordan said there was a few distinct points in the matter of preparation which he desired to call attention to, if Jesus is to come into our hearts today.

Rome stood upon her seven hills, ruling the world. Non-residents entering her gates were immediately made slaves. The heart of the Roman was a selfish one, being conscious only of the power exerted by the nation, because he sympathized not. Humanity is wanting in sympathy and good fellowship. A stranger entering our city for the first time, adopting it as his future home needs sympathy to insure his good conduct and to enable him to live a pure life. The speaker urged that more good fellowship should prevail in the church. He had heard many men say they had associated themselves with a certain lodge, and every member had manifested his sympathy and good fellowship by a hearty handshake. This same man would tell of a visit to some church, where the members did not recognize him. Rev. Mr. Jordan asserted that the church was not all social—far from it—while the lodge is purely so. We should look about us, note our fellows, note a stranger, that he may not be stranded. Open the fountain of generosity, and see that they are made to feel that there are other human beings whose sympathy and good fellowship cannot but reach them.

During the past year there was doubtless few who had not prospered to a greater or less degree. Some may have doubled their possessions. If so have they doubled their contributions to God? How many were giving what God requires—one-tenth. Jesus had given ten-tenths—all—and in not a few cases we are not willing to part with even one-tenth. God loves a cheerful giver. Look at that poor widow, bereft of support, and see if you cannot throw some sunshine into her heart and life, and thus make it better for your own soul. There are many church societies and auxiliaries. Are the members doing their duty in the matter of their giving to God? How many of the members of the church are connected with our missionary societies? How many give a thought to the suffering and desolation in our vast mission fields? Since Christ was sent as a Christmas gift the gospel has been spread throughout the world. He gave himself to the world. Ten-tenths had been given to man, and at least a part of this should be given back to God. "Give liberally and freely and you will give a chance to return to your homes within a few minutes. The collection this morning is for the mission work, and will now be taken.

At the beginning of the service a beautiful anthem was rendered by the choir, followed by a bass solo from Edward Adams. The young man possesses a voice of rare sweetness, and the effort was superb.

Rev. Mr. Jordan preached an excellent sermon last night to a large audience. He chose for his text from the eighteenth Psalm: "The word of the Lord is tried." "The bible has been tried. Part of it has been tried for 40 centuries, and all of it for at least 18 centuries. Today it is in the lead of all books. After trying a young man or having him in your employ for 10 years you are confident that you can trust him. The bible has been tried for 40 centuries and can be trusted. It is true. It is not a book of science, not written by philosophers, but is a book of morals, of religion. It is inspired. It matters not who wrote it. God inspired all the different writers."

A Christmas Sermon.

Rev. Dr. David Jones preached a fine sermon at the First M. P. church yesterday morning, taking as his text Matthew 1: 21: "And she shall bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call His name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins." The sermon was devoted to incidents connected with the birth of Christ. No other birth since the beginning can be compared with the birth of Christ in its importance to man. The sermon was an able one, and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation.

The World a Church.

The last of an interesting series of sermons was preached by Rev. Edwin Weary at St. Stephen's last night, his subject being "The World a Church." The speaker took his text from the fifteenth verse of the eleventh chapter of St. John's Revelations: "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ." Rev. Mr. Weary held the attention of his hearers for the usual time allotted to the services, and the interest in the discourse was manifest.

God's Greatest Gift.

"God's Greatest Gift to Man" was the subject of a most interesting sermon preached by Rev. J. W. Gorrell at the Christian church yesterday morning. It was a Christmas discourse and was pronounced one of the very best efforts of the popular pastor.

"I had a running, itching sore on my leg. Suffered tortures. Doan's Ointment took away the burning and itching instantly, and quickly effected permanent cure." C. W. Lenhart, Bowling Green, Ohio.

THE PAR VALUE GOLD MINES STRONGLY ENDORSED

From The Western Trade Journal of November 11, 1902.

A Great Mining Company and Reliable Banking Firm.

There have been few periods in history when the public mind has been as much occupied with the question of mines and mining investments as it is at present. There has likewise been no time more prolific of fakes and rosy prospectuses. The very nature of the business offers a certain inducement to the unscrupulous promoter. The only protection for the would-be-investor lies in the character of the officers of a company and the value of the properties they seek to develop. It is well to make the most minute inquiry in these respects; and the properly organized company, offering proof of possession of a good mining property, is always worthy of investigation. The intending investor usually turns to his newspaper or trade journal for information on the subject, and the Western Trade Journal is constantly besieged with such inquiries. Space forbids individual answer, as these inquiries are too numerous, but when one particular company is the subject of considerable comment and investigation, we take pleasure in answering our subscribers who have inquired about that company in toto.

Numerous letters have been received at this office concerning the Par Value Gold Mining company, and Smith, Stern & Co., 331 4th street, Pittsburg, Pa., the fiscal agents, handling its stock. After a full and exhaustive investigation of this company, its fiscal agents, property and general standing, we have ascertained the following facts, as set forth in the prospectus of the company, to be absolutely correct:

The Par Value Gold Mining company was organized July, 1900, and has been in continuous operation since commencing with a third of an acre on Battle Mountain, on the Monument claim, and adding to its properties by purchase or lease the Damerl, of 80 acres; the Gladiator, of 40 acres; the Mary Alice, of 6 acres; the Mary Cashen, of 7 acres; the Coriolanus, of 7 acres; Massasoit, of 240 acres; the Mary Hunter, of 280 acres; the Stonehouse and the Dillon. This makes ten mines owned or operated by the Par Value company—eight in the Cripple Creek district and two in Utah, all of which are well developed. Three are producing and three others at point of production. They comprise over 800 acres of valuable mineral land and are located in the best districts in the United States and among the largest and best mines in America. The Mary Cashen mine adjoins the Gold Coin mine, which has produced $7,500,000, and pays $350,000 annual dividends, and is also near Stratton's Independence, which has produced $10,000,000, and pays dividends of $1,920,000 annually. It is also close to the Strong and Portland, two other leading mines of the Cripple Creek district, and adjoins the original property of the Par Value company on the south.

The Mary Cashen mine is opened by a shaft sunk to a depth of 850 feet and is equipped with a first-class plant of machinery. It is now producing pay ore. The Coriolanus adjoins the Ajax, one of the great mines of the district; is well equipped, has a shaft 550 feet deep and is now producing and is equipped with a first-class plant of machinery. It is now producing pay ore, as is also the Dillon, which is the best located mine in Cripple Creek. The Mary Alice, which adjoins the Portland and Independence and lies directly between the two, has a shaft 510 feet deep and numerous drifts and cross-cuts. It is expected to reach the ore in this mine any day. The Par Value has a shaft 280 feet deep and 250 feet of drifts. It is situated, like the core of an apple, between the Portland, Ajax, Gold Coin, Granite, Stratton's Independence, Mary Cashen, Dillon and Strong mines, and is expected to produce good results by development.

The Damerl property is situated four miles south of Victor, contains 80 acres, and gives promise of becoming one of the most valuable properties in the Cripple Creek district. It has a shaft 190 feet deep, which is now being sunk upon and a tunnel 75 feet long. The Massasoit is located in the Mercur-Bingham district, Utah, and has several hundred feet of work done on it. The Mary Hunter is situated in the same district, contains 200 acres and has several shafts and a tunnel on it. The Gladiator adjoins the Damerl. The company thus possesses the great advantage of not being dependent on the results of one mine, but it has nine upon which to depend for results, and any one of seven of the properties would justify the capitalization for the whole at the present selling price of the stock. All of the company's properties are well developed and have had from one to three years' work done on each, bringing some to production and some near it.

The company, therefore, has the advantage of large acreage, a number of mines in important districts, with 3,000 feet of development work done, and two or three years' time expended, and properties at the point of production. It has grown from a third of an acre to over 800 acres in two years. This company is conservatively capitalized at $1,000,000 and managed by competent and experienced men in the interest of the stockholders on the most careful business principles. All money raised from the sale of stock goes into the treasury for development and other purposes of the company, and the shares are sold at the lowest price that will give the company the money needed for its purpose. Over $100,000 has been raised and spent on its properties, including the work on the Mary Cashen, Coriolanus, Mary Alice and Dillon, fully $300,000 of work and plant are represented in the development of the properties, without counting the value of the properties themselves. It is believed that no safer and better mining stock was ever offered to the public.

We cannot close this article without saying a word regarding the gentlemen who are offering the Par Value stock, and the company, itself, and what we say here and now is based upon a personal knowledge of the men and their methods. If they have one predominant quality it is conservatism. They under-estimate rather than exaggerate the possibilities of their properties, and as a result those who buy stock in their enterprises never fail to realize sooner and more substantially, than they promise. Another noteworthy feature in Smith, Stern & Company's method is the fact that they always insist upon an investigation before investing, well knowing that their proposition will more than sustain all that they say in its behalf. In addition they are honest, reliable and eminently trustworthy. They are notably successful in all their undertakings, because they are always formed upon the solid rock of truthfulness and rare merit.

We therefore feel that we can cheerfully and conscientiously recommend this stock as a safe and permanent investment, and investors, in a short time, will thank us for the advice we now give them to get interested in this valuable property. It is bound to be one of the best in the United States, and it will be but a short time before there will be none of the stock for sale at any price. As quick as the increased equipment is installed at the mine it will be in a position for business, and the mine will pay its own expenses as well as large dividends to its shareholders.

The Par Value company is managed by reliable business men of reputation and standing in the interests of all the stockholders. It has been established and operated over two years, and has developed the properties with the proceeds of the stock thoroughly and conscientiously, and this is the strongest statement that can be made in favor of any company. In short, we are pleased to say that we have not, during our entire life of publication, investigated a more promising or more worthy company, and we especially advise whoever may read this to lose no time in securing a block of this stock while it can be obtained at its present price.

With the capitalization of one company the Par Value has the property of ten, and by a telegram from the general manager, dated October 21, we learn that shipments are being made from the Coriolanus, Mary Cashen and Dillon mines.

EXPRESS CO. ACCUSED

Of Acting as Wholesale Liquor Agent in a Prohibition County.

Nearly all of the Adams Express offices of Harrison county have become practically liquor saloons, says the Cadiz Republican. They allow the regular wholesale liquor dealers of the cities to ship their liquors to them C. O. D. The liquors are received and stored in the express offices, and the agents become the salesmen to the parties who receive them, collecting the money and forwarding it to the wholesale dealers. Practically, in many cases, a store of liquor is kept on hand to be dealt out to any person who may call and pay for it, regardless of whether the person receiving it may be the one who originally ordered it.

At the last term of court in Cadiz,

Prosecuting Attorney B. W. Rowland had a number of cases on hand arising out of this condition of affairs. The express agents from Station 15, 800, Miller's Station, Cadiz Junction and Cadiz were summoned to testify before the grand jury, and the assistant superintendent of the express company was also there. Mr. Rowland had secured evidence in advance of what was being done by the company and there was nothing left for the agents but to confess to the facts. The individual agents all made the excuse that they were under orders from the superior officers of the company, and what was not their personal taste to be liquor dealers, they were under compulsion to obey orders or resign their positions.

The Republican also says that it remains to be seen whether the Adams Express company, which is a rich and responsible corporation, can persist in violating the liquor laws of the county. It is believed by those who have examined the law pretty carefully that there is a whole load of trouble ahead for this company. It has been suggested that the company has already made itself responsible not only for the payment of government license, but also for Dow tax and penalty for some eight or ten different establishments in Harrison county alone, to say nothing of other places, and that its officers can be brought to court to answer for every violation of the law.

Great Record for Four Years.

The Mahin Advertising company will occupy the entire eighth floor of the Williams building, 200 Monroe street, Chicago, on December 27, just four years to the day from the time this young agency commenced business with five persons. Now it employs 110 persons and does a business exceeding $1,000,000 a year. There are 291 active advertisers who place their orders with this company.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because it is so common. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the blood will attack the vital organs or the away cell by cell.

Bladder trouble must always result from a degeneration of the kidney, and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It cures inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild, and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. For may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new medicine sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CLOSE CALL FOR A HORSE

Street Car Narrowly Missed Killing an Animal Upon the Track.

A Rock Springs car came near killing another horse on Carolina avenue this morning. About 9 o'clock a man named Ferguson, who lives near Chester was leading his horse down Carolina avenue and did not notice an approaching car. At the corner of Sixth street and Carolina avenue the car overtaken them and struck the horse just as it stopped.

Only the quick action of the electric brake prevented the horse from being killed. As it was the animal escaped with only a few bruises.

The Hobbs Child Better.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Hobbs, who has been critically ill with scarlet fever for some time past, is improved. Yesterday her condition became alarming again, but this morning she appeared to be better than since she was taken ill. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs recently died from this disease and they are greatly worried over the little girl's condition.

Last Day to Put Up Cash.

The candidates for office in Chester are beginning to pay their entrance

CLOSE CALL FOR A HORSE

Street Car Narrowly Missed Killing an Animal Upon the Track.

A Rock Springs car came near killing another horse on Carolina avenue this morning. About 9 o'clock a man named Ferguson, who lives near Chester was leading his horse down Carolina avenue and did not notice an approaching car. At the corner of Sixth street and Carolina avenue the car overtook them and struck the horse just as it stopped.

Only the quick action of the electric brake prevented the horse from being killed. As it was the animal escaped with only a few bruises.

The Hobbs Child Better.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hobbs, who has been critically ill with scarlet fever for some time past, is improved. Yesterday her condition became alarming again, but this morning she appeared to be better than since she was taken ill. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs recently died from this disease and they are greatly worried over the little girl's condition.

Last Day to Put Up Cash.

The candidates for office in Chester are beginning to pay their entrance fees. Tomorrow is the last day that this can be done and nearly every candidate has been around to see the election commissioners. They may deposit their money till tomorrow night at midnight. An official list of the names will then be published.

Goes Back to the Mill.

John P. West has closed up his butcher shop and expects to return to his place at the tin mill after the holidays are over. Mr. West conducted a shop on the upper end of Carolina avenue for several months. He is now also a candidate for recorder at the Chester election.

Special Meeting of Jr. O. U. A. M.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. will hold a special meeting tonight at their hall in Chester and expect to initiate two members. Rev. E. C. Lindsey, who expected to be initiated some time ago and who was unable to do so at the time, will take the degree tonight.

Closed for the Holidays.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery has closed down for the holidays. The clay hands have been off since last Thursday, while the balance of the employees will keep at work until tomorrow. The pottery will remain closed till after New Years.

CHESTER NOTES.

Fred McGahan is spending the holidays with friends in Steubenville. Ed Thompson is spending the week below Parkersburg on the river hunting.

Harry Glass and Ed Stewart were business visitors in Chester today. They are located in the oil fields near Chester.

John P. Rice will leave the latter part of this week for Steubenville, where he will have charge of the telephone crew.

Mrs. Harvey Plankinton expects to leave tomorrow for Pittsburgh, where she will spend several days with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Connors.

John M. McClure returned Saturday from Pittsburgh, where he has been employed for several weeks. Mr. McClure expects to remain at home during the holidays.

G. A. Arner has accepted a position with the A. J. Thrasher Mercantile company, of Pittsburgh, and will travel for them till spring. His territory will be the Ohio river towns in this vicinity.

WELLSVILLE INVENTION FROM WHICH THOUSANDS IN PROFITS ARE EXPECTED

New Process For Refining Petroleum Patented and Fortune Thought to Await the Inventor.

W. D. Perkins, genius, expert and inventor, residing for the present at Wellsville, was in the city this morning on business in connection with his latest invention, in which Wellsville capitalists are interested and have the assurance that within the next two months they will realize thousands of dollars through the sale of it. It may be the means of introducing a new local industry.

It is a continuous process for refining petroleum and the manufacturers of oil and its products it is thought will undoubtedly be of value beyond computation. The invention is the result of several years' hard labor on the part of Mr. Perkins. He is a son of an official of the Standard Oil company and while assisting his father grasped the idea. Happening to drift into Wellsville about a year ago he found a few wealthy men who were owners of oil territory and soon interested them in his discovery. To complete it he was compelled to have the product at his command. When given the use of a practically deserted well located on the outskirts of Wells-ville, he started in with vigor and in a short time had the invention ready for patent.

Considerable time elapsed before the patent was granted but it is now in the hands of a prominent law firm of Pittsburgh and the Wellsville men were told only last week that the only thing that is holding back a sale of the patent at a fabulous price is the fact that two great oil corporations are after it. The one offering the most money will be the recipient of the prize.

The one great feature of the invention, and the one that makes it valuable, is that oil started into one end of the device in its crude state, is divided into four distinct products before leaving the receptacle. To separate the products different degrees of temperature are required. Four degrees are necessary to give the results and these four are contained in the invention. The process is continuous and so simple that a child can comprehend it. The present way of refining oil requires much unnecessary work. The oil is placed in a refining device and one part taken from it at a time.

POWER COMPANY SUED FOR $1,000

W. J. Wilson Asks Damages, Claiming He Was Assaulted and Put Off a Car.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—William J. Wilson, of East Liverpool, has brought suit against the United Power company, of that city, for $1,000 damages for an assault made upon him by one of the company's street car conductors. In his petition the plaintiff says that on the evening of November 16, 1902, he boarded a car at the corner of Fifth and Market streets, East Liverpool, to ride to his home in the East End. He alleges that he paid his fare and took his seat in the rear of the car, whereupon the conductor, Edward Dillon, began to annoy and insult him.

When the car entered the intersection of College street at the bank of the river, the river bank being high at this point and covered with broken dishes, he says that Dillon assaulted him and ordered him to leave the car. This he agreed to do, provided his fare was returned and the car stopped at a point where he could alight without endangering his life, but the conductor refused to return the fare or remove the car to a safe point. He dragged Wilson to the rear platform, where he struck him, and with the assistance of a fellow employee hurled him headlong from the car over the high embankment.

Wilson says he was so badly injured about the face, limbs and body that he was unable to work for 15 days. He further says that he conducted himself in an orderly manner while on the car and thinks he is entitled to damages in the sum stated for the wanton disgrace and injury to which he was subjected.

EXCITING BLAZE QUICKLY CHECKED

FIRE IN A HOUSE ON WALNUT STREET DREW CROWDS.

Damage Was Not Great—Fireman McCullough's Hand Painfully Injured.

Fire in the Patterson property, occupied by the Stanley family, corner of Forest and Walnut streets, Saturday afternoon occasioned the assembling of an excited crowd of spectators and until the fire department came grave apprehension was felt as to the outcome of the blaze. From the windows and numerous other apertures smoke poured in volumes and the house being located in close proximity to several other buildings of much value, it was considered that all were in immediate danger.

The fire company, headed by Captain Morley, was seen on the scene, however, and fear was quickly dispelled. The location of the fire in the house being easily seen the firemen rushed to the room, which was up stairs and at the rear, and commenced fighting with energy.

Chemicals were used and they were found sufficient to extinguish the fire. Damage to the house is estimated at $40 and to the household goods, belonging to Mrs. Stanley, about the same amount.

While engaged in the work of putting out the fire Fireman McCullough met with an accident, not serious but extremely painful. He was attempting to force the pressure in one of the patent extinguishers when the glass portion of it burst at the top, the last performance given—G. A. R. and Patriotic Societies Make Neat Sum.

The last performance of "The Drummer Boy" was witnessed by a very large audience at the Grand Saturday night, and the Grand Army and auxiliaries will clear up a neat sum.

Every member of the cast did well. Harry Craig Nail, of Mansfield, who takes the leading role, is particularly clever, and though young in years is destined to take his place among the very best men in the profession. Mr. Nail has had considerable experience in opera, being a baritone of unusual ability.

An extra effort had been made at Saturday's performance to work up a few extra comedy features for the awkward squad, which was commanded by Jacob Shenkel as "Fatty" Smith, and the result was gratifying. The work of E. M. Fisher and George Bevington, two local minstrel men, was worthy of especial mention.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are indebted to Stage Manager Joseph Bradley and his force of stage men. They had a difficult task in handling the big production, and they did it well.

NARROWLY ESCAPED TRIP TO LISBON

Charles Johnson Arrested And Fined For Striking Men Upon the Street.

That Charles Johnson escaped a trip to Lisbon for trial before common pleas court on a serious charge was due simply to leniency on the part of the man who was the cause of his arrest.

Thomas Anderson, of Monroe street, and William Sullivan, of Drury Lane, had occasion to go to the vicinity of the Thompson house at about 11 o'clock at night. In passing out Drury lane they saw a man standing in the dark and one of them jokingly made a remark. They continued on their errand forgetting that they had even seen a man standing in the lane. They were much surprised when they were hailed from the rear by a man who said: "You will insult me, will you?" They immediately recognized him as the man that they had passed in the lane and believing him to be drunk told him to go and attend to his own business. Without replying he rushed at Anderson and landed a terrific blow on the side of the head. He then made for Sullivan but he was defeated in his attempt.

The two men, both highly respected citizens, did not wish to become involved in a disgraceful encounter and after succeeding in getting the man to move, continued down Broadway. Meeting Officer Dunn they informed him of the happening and Johnson was soon under arrest. A charge of disorderly conduct was placed against him, though Messrs. Anderson and Sullivan were inclined to charge him with assault and battery. To the charge he pleaded guilty this morning and was fined $7.50.

MAN'S LEG NEARLY CUT OFF BY A FALL ON CUSPIDOR

John Powers, a machinist, employed at the Patterson foundry, met with a distressing and most peculiar accident yesterday morning at about 9 o'clock. As a result he lies in a bed at Mrs. Anderson's boarding house on Market street, suffering intense pain and with all chances against his speedy recovery.

At the time designated he went to the bath room of the boarding house and was preparing to take a bath. Having run sufficient water for the purpose into the tub he also dropped a piece of soap in. It went directly to the bottom. Failing to notice this he stepped into the water. His foot struck the cake of soap, causing him to slip, and before he could regain his equilibrium he fell with much force backward to the floor. In alighting, his right leg above the knee came in violent contact with a china cuspidor, a part of which had been broken, leaving a sharp edge.

The force of the fall was so great

MEN NO LONGER IN THE BUSINESS

Insurance Agents Accused of Questionable Practices Are Not Operating Now.

Since the publication of an article in the News Review Saturday concerning the questionable transactions of two former young insurance men, a number of the local agents have been much exercised lest the statements made should injure their business. For the benefit of these parties, the News Review, while willing and ready to substantiate all statements made in the article in question, will say in justice to other agents that the men accused of questionable practices are not now engaged in the insurance business.

Though the article did not state what company or companies the parties represented, the local superintendent of the Prudential concern volunteered the information this morning that everything connected with his company, as far as agents are concerned, is regular.

Able to Leave the Hospital.
Mrs. C. Bucey, of the West End, left this morning for Pittsburgh to accompany her daughter, Nannie to her home in this city. Miss Bucey has been an inmate of the Passavant hospital for several weeks, but is now thought to be able to return home. She was injured in an elevator accident at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery two months ago, and it was thought at that time she could not recover.

STRONG OPPONENT FOR MR. ARCHER

Aspirant For Third Term as Senator Finds Political Troubles Multiplying.

PROSPECTS NOT ROSEATE

Secretary Laylin Finds the Code Silent as Regards the Division of Wards into Precincts—Notes From the Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, December 22.—The troubles of State Senator Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire, are multiplying. In his candidacy for a third term he is to have strong opposition in his own county. Charles J. Heinlein, a Bridgeport attorney, announces he will compete with Archer for the Belmont county delegation. He is said to be of the Hanna persuasion, while Archer is a supporter of Foraker. Archer's political prospects do not seem roseate. Opposition at home means that he will be unable to leave Belmont county with a full delegation, so necessary to attain success. Those acquainted with the situation do not believe Archer can even control a majority of his county's delegates. The people of the joint district generally, if reports are to be relied upon, are unable to discover a reason which warrants him in asking them to violate a long established precedent against a third term. Columbiana county sentiment is against legislative third terms.

Secretary of State Laylin has made the discovery that the code is silent on the question of sub-division of wards into precincts in cities having no registration. Where there is no registration, the elections are under the control of the board of deputy state supervisors, but it develops that the new code gives them no power to re-arrange voting precincts at the first election. Mr. Laylin does not regret the omission, as very serious.

For the first election, he said, council could designate a precinct where the voting will take place, and after the first election, under the law, the board could sub-divide the new wards into precincts of their own volition, or upon petition of the electors, providing over 400 votes were cast in the ward. Mr. Laylin also expressed the opinion that there would be no harm done either, were the board to make each ward one precinct, designating the most convenient voting place for election purposes, and then arrange for the new precincts later.

NO LONGER ANY ROOM FOR DOUBT ABOUT PLANS OF THE LISBON RAILWAY

Work Will Begin in the Spring on the East and West Extensions of the Line.

Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—There is no longer any doubt that the projects of the new Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad company are to be carried out. Judge Billingsley, president of the company, said the other day that work on the east and west connections will be under way next spring as early as possible after which attention will be given to the northern outlet through Salem.

It seems to be the intention of the company to make the connection with Salep at Washingtonville and from a remark made by a competent official of the company a few days ago, to make the Salem road a connecting link through to Ashtabula, as the first announcement indicated. The route to be followed in making the connection to Washingtonville has not been determined.

A corps of engineers who are running the line west from Salem to Bay ard report that they have found a remarkably easy grade between the two points. The heaviest incline encountered is about 40 feet to the mile and continues only a short distance.

The officials of the company are much gratified that such a feasible route may be secured. The western extension will touch or pass the villages of East Rochester, Hanoverton, Kensington, Chambersburg and Moul-

AN UNEXPECTED OBSTACLE FOUND

Which Will Further Delay Filing of Pennsylvania Avenue Equalization Board's Report.

Contrary to announcement made in a local evening newspaper the Pennsylvania avenue equalization board will not make its report to council at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow evening. The report will not be ready for submission for several days yet, and if it is presented before the first of the year it will be at an adjourned meeting of the city fathers.

The members of the board encountered a difficulty last week which they had not anticipated. In investigating the lots contained in tracts of land owned by real estate agencies, seven of which are located along the avenue, the board found that the original assessing board had turned in the assessments on the plots as a whole and had not designated the lots. Since the latter board filed its report with the county auditor, many of these lots have been sold and numerous dwellings erected. A lot of a plat being sold it no longer is in the hands of the real estate men and they cannot be charged with the assessment due on the lot sold. As a result the board found it necessary to designate every lot and place the benefit assessment against its owner.

Another unanticipated discovery, and the one that will hold the board back in getting its report fully completed as soon as was wished, is that a tract of land above Oakland, subdivided into seven lots, sold within the past few months, has owners, of course, but who they are the board has as yet been unable to ascertain. What they can do in the matter is not known or decided upon, but they have a solution under advisement. The assessment will be made against the lot number, and the ownership of the board will leave for the auditor to find out.

MOVEMENTS OF BOATS

The River Falling Slowly — Business of the Packets Good.

The river is rising slowly today, the result of the rains of Saturday and yesterday. There is a stage of about 12 feet here.

The Kanawha, from Charleston, and the Ben Hur, from Parkersburg, arrived at the wharf simultaneously at 6 o'clock last evening. Quite a crowd had collected at the wharf to greet arriving and departing friends and the stage landing from the wharf to the shore gave away under their weight. None were injured, but all had a bad scare.

The Keystone State arrived at midnight from Cincinnati and left for Pittsburgh. She is due on the return trip at 8 o'clock tonight. The Kanawha is due down tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The towboat Coal City, which is owned by the coal combination, struck a pier of the railroad bridge at Steubenville Saturday afternoon and sank one barge of coal. The boat proceeded on her journey. The Jim Wood dropped a barge at the Beaver bridge several days ago. The towboat Joseph B. Williams in passing Marietta damaged the Marietta wharf. The big steamer in flanking with her tow was carried by the strong current towards the wharf and struck it with her fantail. The Williams has a very large tow of coal for New Orleans.

Will Probated.
Lisbon, December 22.—(Special.)—The will of the late Susan McCammon, of Perry township, has been admitted to the probate. Mary J. Coy and Margie Day are named as executors. No bond required.

Bee Hive Sold.—Mr. Solomon, proprietor of the Bee Hive store, owing to ill health, will shortly leave for California. He has sold the store to Koch Bros., who will shortly take charge.

MINSTRELSY BY HOME TALENT

Well Known Young People to Appear On Stages of Local Theatres.

"The Twentieth Century Minstrels," composed mostly of local performers, will appear at the Cooper Opera house, Wellsville, tomorrow night. There are 36 in the cast, headed by U. G. Kane and Lones Connelly, of Youngstown, both well known minstrels. Professor Von Cook, late with Victor Herbert, is the leader of the orchestra. A street parade will be given in this city at 11:30 o'clock in the morning which will be followed by one in Wellsville. The program is replete with modern and up-to-date songs and monologues and those who appear in the cast have recognized ability. The first part, it is said, by those who have seen the rehearsals, to be gorgeous and equal if not superior to those of professional troupes. The farce, "The Filipinos' Holiday," which is to conclude the performance, is a great laughmaker. It is the intention of the management to give the performance in a number of nearby towns. It has secured the local opera house for New Year's evening.

News and Notes About The Potteries

QUAINT CHINESE POTTERY.

The little treaty port on the Chinese coast known as Swatow has given its name to an odd variety of glazed earthenware, which, long a favorite in the far east, has begun to appear in the markets of New York and other American cities. The name is coincidental. Swatow is a small place, whose chief industry is the provisioning of steamships and sailing vessels. But it is the port of the big city of Chow Chow Poo, whose population is said to be 1,500,000, and whose industries are famous in the Chinese Empire. Near the latter are inexhaustible beds of kaolin, blue, gray and other fine clays, which have supplied its kilns for centuries. Formerly it exported its ceramics overland to Canton.

The opening of the Swatow to the "foreign devils" diverted this traffic by degrees to the latter port, more especially that in ceramic goods destined for export to foreign lands. The wares in question were exhibited in Swatow shops, and found customers first in steamship officers and then in travelers. The stores flourished and ere long began to export on their own account. In this way the goods came to be known as Swatow ware.

The foundation is a gray earthenware with a thick opaque glaze, usually sea green, and the articles are fashioned after, or decorated with, marine forms. The commonest type is a wall pocket made in the shape of a crab, lobster, crawfish, rock cod, carp or mullet. The colorature varies. In the best specimens an attempt is made to reproduce the natural appearance of the animal imitated. In the larger number the glazing is in two shades, sea-green and sepia. Other styles of glazing are in seaweed brown and a crude vermilion suggesting the hue of a boiled lobster. The modeling, though coarse, is strong and effective.

Upon a higher plane are wall pockets shaped like vases, and also bowls, vases and jars, fashioned to represent basket work, bamboo ware, or other shapes, on which are placed crabs, shrimps, fishes, frogs, snails, starfish, and seaweeds. The body is glazed in a grayish-yellow neutral tint light under, or sienna, and the decorations in their natural colors. Some of the designs in this class are exceedingly attractive. None could be simpler than a fish bowl made apparently of a fisherman's rattan creel, which is half covered with eel grass and sea bladders, in which are prawns, crabs and fishes. A soup tureen was framed in imitation of a huge Ostrean bivalve up whose sides and over whose brim an army of little crabs were crawling as though eager to plunge into the soup within.

PEORIA, ILL.

Peoria, Ill., December 22.—The clay hands finished up here Thursday until January 5. The biscuit men will put in one more kiln and the glost men two more next week and will loaf on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, starting Monday to work steadily. The firm and the shop committees held a meeting with the settlers out of both ends in regard to taking on more kilnmen. It was decided that the local get three more, one for the glost and two for the biscuit. The firm wants nine glost kilns a pay commencing on January 5. This will require seven or more biscuit kilns which will warrant steady work for the clay hands.

During the last electric are lights will be placed in all the clay parts. Joe Patch will spend the holidays with his folks at Ford City.

Ed. Davis will go to Findlay to visit relatives whom he has not seen for several years.

Walter Smith has accepted the big jigger at Monmouth, Ill., and will start about the first of the year.

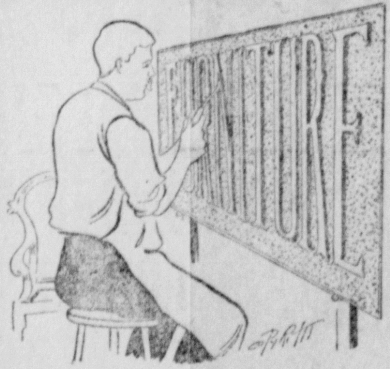

Local union No. 27 held a very interesting and important meeting on Tuesday evening. A committee was appointed to arrange a scale of wages to govern the dipping and biscuit ware room girls who have not been receiving the proper wages.

DOES NOT LIKE CROOKSVILLE.

John Saulsbury returned yesterday morning from Crooksville, where he has been employed for several weeks in the pottery located there. He will not return to Crooksville. Jack told the News Review's pottery man yesterday that he neither liked the town nor the people. He gives it as his opinion that unless the residents of the new pottery town cultivate a more cordial and neighborly feeling, it will be a difficult matter for the firm operating the pottery concern to induce men to locate there.

developing once flourishing Welsh industries which had been allowed to languish or all together lapse. To carry out the association's objects an influential committee was formed in London, with branches established in various parts of the municipality. The association seeks to attain its purpose, among other things, by enlisting patronesses, stewards, associates and members; by establishing depots for the sale of goods and by holding occasional exhibits and sales and encouraging village classes and workshops where handicrafts can be learned and practiced.

DEVONSHIRE CONCEITS.

Quaint little things in Devonshire pottery attract attention in many stores. These pieces are in a rich yellow, and cost from 50 cents to $3.75. They are mostly in the shape of quaint cups and jugs, and nearly every one of them has a rhyme plainly inscribed, in addition to a decoration in deep red and green. One of the rhymes is very familiar: There's a saying old and musty, Yet it is ever new— It is never trouble trouble Till trouble troubles you.

NO MERGER.

Reports have gained circulation that an effort was being made by the National Fireproofing company to secure control of the American Sewer Pipe company, which has holdings in Akron and Barberton, including the Hill Sewer Pipe company and the National Sewer Pipe company, with plants at Barberton. It was rumored that the merger of the companies was discussed at the meeting of the directors of the American Sewer Pipe company at Pittsburgh, Friday. George R. Hill, president and treasurer of the Hill Sewer Pipe company, was seen at his office Saturday and said: "There is absolutely nothing in it."

said Mr. Hill. "I attended the meeting of the board of directors of the American Sewer Pipe company at Pittsburgh Friday and there was no discussion whatever in regard to any merger."

INJURIES ARE SERIOUS.

Mrs. Ella Hester, forelady of the biscuit warehouse at the Edward M. Knowles, is still confined to her home on Chestnut street as a result of the injuries sustained about two weeks ago by falling on an icy pavement. Her left leg is broken in two places and it will be several weeks before she is able to get around again.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Of Great Interest at the Second U. P. Church—Coming Entertainment.

The services at the Second Presbyterian U. P. church yesterday were very interesting. In the morning Rev. D. W. McQuiston preached an appropriate Christmas sermon and in the evening he preached to the young men. His sermons are regarded as two of the best ever delivered in the East End. At night the church was crowded by old as well as young people who listened to a powerful sermon which told the young men of the many vices to which they seem to be easy victims.

A Christmas entertainment will be held in the church Thursday night and it promises to be a very interesting as special pains have been taken to make it a success.

CHRISTMAS SERMON

Large Congregations Present at the Second Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

Large congregations were present yesterday at both services at the Second Presbyterian church. Special services were held both morning and evening and Rev. N. M. Crowe preached an interesting Christmas sermon to an appreciative audience. Thursday night the regular Christmas treat and entertainment given by the Sabbath school will be held at the church.

Considerable time and trouble has been taken to prepare for these exercises and they promise to be the most interesting held in this church for years. A large attendance is expected.

Services Largely Attended.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt occupied the pulpit at the Erie street M. E. church yesterday and preached two interesting sermons. Both services were attended by large congregations and they were well repaid for being present. The regular Christmas entertainment will be held at the church on Thursday night and will be given by the members of the Sunday school. The children have been practicing for several weeks and expect to present an entertainment well worth seeing.

ASYLUM INMATE

OWNS PROPERTY

A Tract Which is Interfering With Wabash Railroad Plans Near Mingo.

Steubenville, December 22.—Out in the Massillon lives Jane Boyd, a happy and contented old woman who knows not what the outside world is like, for since she was a girl 21 years of age, nearly 60 years ago, she has lived in the asylum. She has no friends or relatives as far as is known, nobody cares for her because she is bereft of reason, and also because she has been shut out from the world so long, yet Jane Boyd is holding back the great Wabash railroad from passing through Jefferson county, and a few days ago it was revealed that she is worth $4,000 that will be handed out to her as soon as it is settled in the minds of the financiers of the Wabash system that they can get a clear title to the property they seek to purchase.

The farm, which is owned by Isaac Wesley Adams, contained 100 acres, being one of the finest farms probably in the county. It lies near the Cross Creek bridge, near Mingo. Along the Wabash right of way the dwelling on the farm now stands, but this was no barrier to the Wabash, which because of the expense of purchasing the house, and crossing the farm in a way that would greatly depreciate it in value, decided to purchase the 100 acres, and accordingly the sale was arranged with Mr. Adams, the farm bringing $20,000 or $200 an acre.

Before the deal was closed it was discovered that Miss Boyd owned one-fifth of the farm, and the purchase money will not be paid until a perfect title can be secured.

NICE FOR MAYOR

The President of Council One of the Leading Candidates For the Honor.

Since the first announcement of the candidacy of O. D. Nice for mayor, it has been conceded that he is a very strong candidate. Mr. Nice possesses many qualifications and advantages which recommend him to the voters. He was born in the state of Ohio, and has been a resident of East Liverpool for 23 years. For the past 19 years he has been in business here, and having grown up with the commercial interests of the city, is in touch with the needs of the community. He was instrumental in having organized a branch of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union in this city several years ago, and during its existence was prominent in labor circles.

Mr. Nice has twice been elected to a place in the city council, being now upon his second term as president of that body. If elected to the position he seeks he will make a good officer and a careful executive.

AT THE THEATER

With the innumerable dramatic companies of varied excellence now touring the country, the most discreet local manager is at a loss sometimes to know what to book, but from the flowing accounts of the press of the eastern states Manager Norris has made no mistake in his selection of the Myrtle & Harder Stock company, which opens a week's engagement at the Grand next Monday night in "A Nutmeg Match."

National Reform Association.

Sharon, Pa., Dec. 22.—The Mercer County National Reform association held a convention in Mercer Saturday and by a unanimous vote Mormonism was denounced and a resolution was passed urging that legislative measures be passed by congress abolishing polygamy among the Mormons.

Fire at Ingleside School.

New Milford, Conn., Dec. 22.—Ingleside school, a large and fashionable seminary for young ladies, conducted by Mrs. William D. Black, was partially destroyed by a fire of unknown origin yesterday, and caused damage estimated at $40,000.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

THE EAST OHIO LEAD & ZINC CO.

OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

CAPITAL STOCK, $500,000,

Divided Into 500,000 Shares of One Dollar Each Full Paid and Non-Assessable.

Situated in the Great Fortuna Lead and Zinc District, Fortuna, Mo. This is beyond question the richest Lead and Zinc mining property extant. The property of this company consists of 5 acres of this wealth producing land.

It has been decided to place on the market a limited number of Treasury Shares at 30c per share, FULLY PAID.

From experience of companies operating in same field, this stock will, within 8 months, be paying large dividends, and will not be obtainable at any price.

Below we give Mine Inspector Marsteller's letter, which refers to an adjacent property:

Letter from Inspector of Mines, State of Missouri:

STATE OF MISSOURI. BUREAU OF MINES, MINING AND MINE INSPECTION.

GEORGE K. WILLIAMS,

Inspector Lead and Zinc Mines.

J. W. MARSTELLER,

Secretary and Asst. Inspector.

City of Jefferson, Mo., Feb. 6th, 1902.

The mining property known as the Fortuna Mining Co., having recently changed hands, as well as management, and appreciating the importance which may be associated with a statement from this office, we decided upon a personal investigation of the Standard Lead & Smelting Co., and its management before making you a reply and this must be our excuse for delay.

Our position forbids advice concerning investments; but aside from this we feel free to furnish an opinion of the property as a mining proposition.

The company owns in fee simple (80) eighty acres of mineral land upon which prospect work with the drill shows it to be fine property. Surrounding the present producing shaft, five (5) drill holes have been sunk embracing an area of four and one-half acres; if we take the center hole and a radius therefrom of 225 feet and assuming that the ore will show as well as the shaft and drill holes prove, the writer agrees with three mining experts who have made estimates upon this small tract, and takes the lowest figures as the possible product of the four and one-half acres which figures $4,000,000 worth of ore. The ore from this mine is free from impurities, both lead and zinc than is found anywhere in this country and each of the ores bring the highest prices paid for such ores in this state. The great number of drill holes and the six shafts sunk, showing as they do the largest percentage of ores demonstrated and as yet experienced in the state, thoroughly proves this property and affords the strongest possible proof of the continuity of this exceedingly rich ore body.

A new mill with a capacity of fifteen (15) tons per hour, has been contracted for and is in process of erection and will be completed entire in a short time. A new shaft now being sunk is going down at the rate of three feet per day on proved ground and will enter the ore body not later than March the 10th.

The changed conditions and very manifest improvements already made at the mines, together with our personal investigation and acquaintance with the principal officers of this company, impresses us most favorably and we do not hesitate to state that the management gives promise of proving a first-class one. The parties most largely interested in this company financially, are not only familiar with the mining business, but the same parties will largely control its management and we believe with energy, prudence and fidelity. The very strongest proof that we have encountered as evidence of the faithful and conscientious development and management of the affairs of this company, is found in the fact that its management or those who control it, are men who are completely and unmistakably captivated with an interest in their property. This is not surprising, however, as we have yet to see the mining expert, or practical miner who, after examining the mine, is not in like manner affected.

We look for the production from this property after its plant is in thorough working order, to prove a marvel in the mining history of this state. This long letter will I trust evidence our faith in the property as a producer. Yours very truly,

J. W. MARSTELLER.

This property has been drilled and fully proved. Those persons disappointed in being unable to secure East Liverpool Lead & Zinc Co.'s stock, now have a chance to get something of equal value.

Application may be made at the offices of the Company, rooms 8 and 9, Potters' National Bank Building, and subscriptions may be paid to the First National Bank, Trustee.

Books will positively be closed as soon as this limited allotment is subscribed.

ALICE PRINTING

TRADES UNION COUNCIL

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1902.

The Hepburn pure food bill has passed the house. This fact, in connection with the experiments now being conducted by the government to demonstrate the effects of adulterated food on the human system, leads to a strong hope that there will soon be laws in existence which will protect the people against the purchase and use of compounds dangerous to health. The prohibition of adulteration will apply not only to food, but to drinks and drugs. Government laws are generally more stringently enforced than ordinary statutes, offenders knowing full well that when they fall into the clutches of Uncle Sam's minions they are not likely to escape with light punishment. No penalty is too severe for the grasping manufacturer who, to add to his gains, "doctors" food products with articles which are known to be injurious to the consumer. Adulteration has become alarming in many classes of food, and it is time that a government which cares for the welfare and health of its people gave the matter its earnest attention.

A matter which the city council should carefully consider is that of salaries under the new code. The laborer is worthy of his hire, but extravagance is not to be tolerated. There appears to be no disposition on the part of council, however, to fix unreasonable salaries. One matter that should not be overlooked is the mayor's compensation. In this city he will act as police magistrate, and Attorney General Sheets says that a mayor so acting is entitled to the present established fees in addition to the salary fixed by council. Council must take this decision into account in fixing his pay. The city cannot afford to pay him the $1,800 proposed as the mayor's salary when the police magistrate's fees will swell his compensation fully that amount.

On Saturday the ninety-ninth anniversary of the Louisiana purchase was celebrated in the great states created from the former French possession. And in all the addresses made on the occasion not a word was uttered against the policy of "imperialism and expansion" which made the existence of these states possible. Time has demonstrated the wisdom of Jefferson's course, just as it will that of McKinley.

If you want to make a Christmas gift that will bring unalloyed pleasure, look around for some home which Santa Claus is likely to overlook and place it there. Such homes are few in East Liverpool, but they exist, even if you do not know them. The Salvation Army makes it its business to find them, and donations placed with its officers will be used where they will do most good.

Work is to begin next spring to eliminate railroad grade crossings from Cleveland. It is estimated that it will take 10 years' labor and an expenditure of $10,000,000 to accomplish the task, but the protection that will be afforded will be worth the cost, great as it is going to be.

The holiday edition of the East Liverpool Morning Tribune was a large and most attractive one. The paper is

General Debility

Day in and out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself.

Food does not strengthen.

Sleep does not refresh.

It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy,—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers.

For this condition take

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It vitalizes the blood, gives vigor and tone to all the organs and functions, and is positively unequalled for all run-down or debilitated conditions.

Hood's PILLS cure constipation. 25 cents.

In the hands of men who are no novices in the art of newspaper-making, and the results of their well-directed efforts are manifest. The oldest daily in the city extends hearty congratulations to the youngest on its enterprise and prosperity.

The allies, England and Germany, are willing that Uncle Sam shall arbitrate their dispute with Venezuela.

The whole world knows how square and honest the old gentleman is; still, repeated public acknowledgments by outsiders of belief in his wisdom and fair-mindedness can but be viewed with satisfaction by 30,000,000 Americans.

Marconi has succeeded in sending wireless messages across the ocean.

They are not single letters of the Morse code, but connected dispatches.

This marvelous achievement marks a triumph in twentieth century invention.

The importance of which it is hard to estimate.

Venezuela has had 104 wars in seventy years. The number would undoubtedly have been larger if it had not been for rain and darkness and other circumstances that were beyond human control.

The shortest day of the year has come and gone, but many a purchaser of Christmas gifts is likely to find another short day when he comes to figure up his cash.

It is about time for the ice companies to begin announcing that this season's crop is a failure.

The Christmas pocketbook will look attenuated before the end of the week.

OBITUARY

Isaac Samler.

The news of the death from heart trouble of Isaac Samler, of Lebanon, Pa., was received here this morning.

He was the father of Messrs. Samuel and Daniel Samler, proprietors of the Leader store, and Mrs. William Erlanger, Jr. One other son, Lewis, at whose home his death occurred, survives him.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning in Philadelphia, where the interment will be made.

Messrs. Samler and Mr. and Mrs. William Erlanger, Jr., left here this afternoon to be present at the last sad rites.

Mr. Samler was born in the village of Ichenhausen, Bavaria, 74 years ago and came to this country when he was 16.

He located in South Carolina and engaged in the mercantile business. He prospered and had amassed quite a fortune when the civil war brought him disaster.

He was ruined financially and left for the north, locating at Wilmington, Del. He established a retail clothing business that prospered immensely during the three years that he controlled it.

He sold the business and located in Philadelphia as a wholesale clothing merchant. He retired from active life 14 years ago, having amassed a considerable fortune.

His illness dates back two years when his wife, whom he loved devotedly, died.

The loss preyed upon his mind and had much to do with hastening his death.

The Leader Store will be closed until after the funeral as a mark of respect.

Dorothy Boyce

Dorothy Boyce, the 18-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyce, of Ohio avenue, East End, died this morning about 7:30 after a short illness with pneumonia. This child has been a weakly one since its birth and the sympathy of a large circle of friends who mourn with them over the death of their only child.

The funeral will take place from the home at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Interment at Riverview. Remains may be viewed from 7 to 10 Tuesday evening.

WELLSVILLE

DRAGGED FOR 200 FEET

Wellsville Man Knocked From a Street Car And Very Badly Injured.

Robert L. Jones, who resides on Main street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, was the victim of a bad accident Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. He was going to East Liverpool and was standing on the step of the front platform of one of the small green street cars. The car was so crowded that it was resting flat upon its springs. When it arrived at the bridge which crosses Little Yellow creek, Jones was struck on his side by a telegraph pole which stood a foot and a half from the car. He was knocked under the car and was dragged for nearly 200 feet.

But for the fact that Jones held onto the car he would have undoubtedly had both of his legs taken off. He was badly bruised all over, received two deep gashes in the head, had three of his front teeth knocked out and also had one of his ankles badly lacerated by the brake in under the car which his foot struck. He was immediately carried to his home by friends who were going to East Liverpool with him. Dr. A. B. Holland was called and dressed the man's injuries.

Jones is only about 18 years of age and is employed on the C. & P. road. He is a bricklayer by trade. He was resting well last evening although his injuries still give him considerable pain.

TALKING TO SANTA

Lots of Little Folks, Anxious for the Privilege, Trouble Telephone Girl.

The telephone girls at both the Bell and Columbiana County telephone exchanges in this city have received many calls lately from little folks around the city inquiring for Santa Claus. The operators are at a loss to know just whom to connect the children with, but as a rule get out of the difficulty in some manner.

Saturday evening the night operator at the Columbiana County exchange received a call from one of the little tots asking for Santa Claus. Their conversation follows: "Hello, Central! I want to talk with Santa Claus." The operator decided to play Santa Claus for the occasion, and after ringing in on the line answered "Hello" in such a masculine tone of voice that the little one immediately took her for Santa. "Say, Santa Claus, I've been an awfully good girl since you were here last Christmas and I want you to bring me lots of nice things when you come around this week." Receiving a favorable reply from the supposed Santa Claus the little girl turned away from the phone and told her parents that she had really talked with Santa Claus.

A REVOLVER SHOT

Fired on the Street Sunday Evening Led to Ellis Stoffel's Arrest.

Ellis Stoffel, who, it will be remembered, served time at the Canton workhouse, being implicated in robbing Hay's candy store in the West End, got into trouble again last evening and will probably have to pay a fine. While walking along Main street in the vicinity of J. J. Dowling's new residence after church Stoffel, in company with two other small boys, pulled a 32-calibre revolver out of his overcoat pocket and shot in the air.

Officer Elliott happened to be near by at the time. He placed all three boys under arrest and took them to the mayor's office. The mayor was telephoned for and soon arrived. Officer Elliott explained the case as he had seen it. The mayor demanded the revolver from Stoffel and it was turned over. The two boy friends of Stoffel were turned loose by the mayor, after which Stoffel was given a strong lecture. He was finally released upon his own recognizance and will have to appear before the city executive later.

New Police Uniforms.

The new police overcoats which were ordered some time ago by Mayor Fogo for the city police force arrived this morning from Cincinnati. The policemen will commence wearing them after Christmas. They are a long frock coat, double breasted and have large collars for stormy weather. New caps have also been ordered.

Mill Shut Down.

The mill of the American Tin Plate company, in this city, was completely shut down for three hours Saturday. One of the engineers allowed the oil cups, on one of the engines, to run dry, thus making the bearings so hot that the engine had to be stopped.

If its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine known to the medical profession is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine.

JOHN THE BAPTIST AND HIS MESSAGE

Text For a Powerful Sermon by Rev. C. G. Jordan at the Presbyterian Church.

LESSON TO ALL THE WORLD

In the Words Cried in the Wilderness. Other Sermons Appropriate to Christmas Time Delivered in the City Yesterday.

Services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday were of unusual interest. Special music had been prepared and the singing both morning and evening was a feature greatly enjoyed by two large congregations.

Rev. C. G. Jordan took for his text in the morning the third verse of the first chapter of Mark: "The voice of one crying in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight."

Rev. Mr. Jordan took up the strange character of John the Baptist, and showed that in speech, manner and dress he was different from other men. Stranger still was the message imparted in the words of the text. John was a great and good man, but he was announcing the coming of one greater still. This made his message of the utmost importance. The pastor interpreted the meaning of the scriptures as indicating that it was John's errand to prepare as perfectly as possible the hearts of the people to receive Jesus Christ.

The people were to be prayerful, hopeful and repentant, in order that they could be brought face to face with God with the right spirit. If this could be accomplished Christ would find the way prepared. The speaker pointed out the absolute necessity for the proper preparation. Paul, upon one occasion had neglected to do this, with the result that his mission had failed. At this Christmas time we should take Christ to our hearts. He came as a child. He comes today the same as He did centuries ago. We should open our hearts to receive Him, but there must be preparation—a complete turning around. Mr. Jordan said there was a few distinct points in the matter of preparation which he desired to call attention to, if Jesus is to come into our hearts today.

Rome stood upon her seven hills, ruling the world. Non-residents entering her gates were immediately made slaves. The heart of the Roman was a selfish one, being conscious only of the power exerted by the nation, because he sympathized not. Humanity is wanting in sympathy and good fellowship. A stranger entering our city for the first time, adopting it as his future home needs sympathy to insure his good conduct and to enable him to live a pure life. The speaker urged that more good fellowship should prevail in the church. He had heard many men say they had associated themselves with a certain lodge, and every member had manifested his sympathy and good fellowship by a hearty handshake. This same man would tell of a visit to some church, where the members did not recognize him. Rev. Mr. Jordan asserted that the church was not so social—far from it—while the lodge is purely so. We should look about us, note our fellows, note a stranger, that he may not be stranded. Open the fountain of generosity, and see that they are made to feel that there are other human beings whose sympathy and good fellowship cannot but reach them.

During the past year there was doubtless few who had not prospered to a greater or less degree. Some may have doubled their possessions. If so have they doubled their contributions to God? How many were giving what God requires—one-tenth. Jesus had given ten-tenths—all—and in not a few cases we are not willing to part with even one-tenth. God loves a cheerful giver. Look at that poor widow, bereft of support, and see if you cannot throw some sunshine into her heart and life, and thus make it better for your own soul. There are many church societies and auxiliaries. Are the members doing their duty in the matter of their giving to God? How many of the members of the church are connected with our missionary societies? How many give a thought to the suffering and desolation in our vast mission fields? Since Christ was sent as a Christmas gift the gospel has been spread throughout the world. He gave himself to the world. Ten-tenths had been given to man, and at least a part of this should be given back to God. "Give liberally and freely and we will give you a chance to return to your homes within a few minutes. The collection this morning is for the mission work, and will now be taken.

At the beginning of the service a beautiful anthem was rendered by the choir, followed by a bass solo from Edward Adams. The young man possesses a voice of rare sweetness, and the effort was superb.

Rev. Mr. Jordan preached an excellent sermon last night to a large audience. He chose for his text from the eighteenth Psalm: "The word of the Lord is tried." "The bible has been tried. Part of it has been tried for 40 centuries, and all of it for at least 18 centuries. Today it is in the lead of all books. After trying a young man or having him in your employ for 10 years you are confident that you can trust him. The bible has been tried for 40 centuries and can be trusted. It is true. It is not a book of science, not written by philosophers, but is a book of morals, of religion. It is inspired. It matters not who wrote it. God inspired all the different writers."

A Christmas Sermon.

Rev. Dr. David Jones preached a fine sermon at the First M. P. church yesterday morning, taking as his text Matthew 1: 21: "And she shall bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call Him Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins." The sermon was devoted to incidents connected with the birth of Christ. No other birth since the beginning can be compared with the birth of Christ in its importance to man. The sermon was an able one, and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation.

The World a Church.

The last of an interesting series of sermons was preached by Rev. Edwin Weary at St. Stephen's last night, his subject being "The World a Church." The speaker took his text from the fifteenth verse of the eleventh chapter of St. John's Revelations: "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ." Rev. Mr. Weary held the attention of his hearers for the usual time allotted to the services, and the interest in the discourse was manifest.

God's Greatest Gift.

"God's Greatest Gift to Man" was the subject of a most interesting sermon preached by Rev. J. W. Gorrell at the Christian church yesterday morning. It was a Christmas discourse and was pronounced one of the very best efforts of the popular pastor.

"I had a running, itching sore on my leg. Suffered tortures. Doan's Ointment took away the burning and itching instantly, and quickly effected permanent cure." C. W. Lenhart, Bowling Green, Ohio.

THE PAR VALUE GOLD MINES STRONGLY ENDORSED

From The Western Trade Journal of November 11, 1902.

A Great Mining Company and Reliable Banking Firm.

There have been few periods in history when the public mind has been as much occupied with the question of mines and mining investments as it is at present. There has likewise been no time more prolific of fakes and rosy prospectuses. The very nature of the business offers a certain inducement to the unscrupulous promoter. The only protection for the would-be investor lies in the character of the officers of a company and the value of the properties they seek to develop. It is well to make the most minute inquiry in these respects; and the properly organized company, offering proof of possession of a good mining property, is always worthy of investigation. The intending investor usually turns to his newspaper or trade journal for information on the subject, and the Western Trade Journal is constantly beset with such inquiries. Space forbids individual answer, as these inquiries are too numerous, but when one particular company is the subject of considerable comment and investigation, we take pleasure in answering our subscribers who have inquired about that company in toto.

Numerous letters have been received at this office concerning the Par Value Gold Mining company, and Smith, Stern & Co., 331 4th street, Pittsburgh, Pa., the fiscal agents, handling its stock. After a full and exhaustive investigation of this company, its fiscal agents, property and general standing, we have ascertained the following facts, as set forth in the prospectus of the company, to be absolutely correct:

The Par Value Gold Mining company was organized July, 1900, and has been in continuous operation since commencing with a third of an acre on Battle Mountain, on the Monument claim, and adding to its properties by purchase or lease the Dameral, of 80 acres; the Gladiator, of 40 acres; the Mary Alice, of 6 acres; the Mary Cashen, of 7 acres; the Coriolanus, of 7 acres; Massasoit, of 340 acres; the Mary Hunter, of 280 acres; the Stonehouse and the Dillon. This makes ten mines owned or operated by the Par Value company—eight in the Cripple Creek district and two in Utah, all of which are well developed. Three are producing and three others at point of production. They comprise over 800 acres of valuable mineral land and are located in the best districts in the United States and among the largest and best mines in America. The Mary Cashen mine adjoins the Gold Coin mine, which has produced $7,500,000, and pays $350,000 annual dividends, and is also near Stratton's Independence, which has produced $10,000,000, and pays dividends of $1,220,000 annually. It is also close to the Strong and Portland, two other leading mines of the Cripple Creek district, and adjoins the original property of the Par Value company on the south.

The Mary Cashen mine is opened by a shaft sunk to a depth of 850 feet and is equipped with a first-class plant of machinery. It is now producing pay ore. The Coriolanus adjoins the Ajax, one of the great mines of the district; is well equipped, has a shaft 550 feet deep and is now producing and is equipped with a first-class plant of machinery. It is now producing pay ore, as is also the Dillon, which is the best located mine in Cripple Creek. The Mary Alice, which adjoins the Portland and Independence and lies directly between the two, has a shaft 510 feet deep and numerous drifts and cross-outs. It is expected to reach the ore in this mine any day. The Par Value has a shaft 280 feet deep and 250 feet of drifts. It is situated, like the core of an apple, between the Portland, Ajax, Gold Coin, Granite, Stratton's Independence, Mary Cashen, Dillon and Strong mines, and is expected to produce good results by development.

The Dameral property is situated four miles south of Victor, contains 90 acres, and gives promise of becoming one of the most valuable properties in the Cripple Creek district. It has a shaft 190 feet deep, which is now being sunk upon and a tunnel 75 feet long. The Massasoit is located in the Mercur-Bingham district, Utah, and has several hundred feet of work done on it. The Mary Hunter is situated in the same district, contains 200 acres and has several shafts and a tunnel on it. The Gladiator adjoins the Dameral. The company thus possesses the great advantage of not being dependent on the results of one mine, but it has nine upon which to depend for results, and any one of seven of the properties would justify the capitalization for the whole at the present selling price of the stock. All of the company's properties are well developed and have had from one to three years' work done on each, bringing some to production and some near it.

The company, therefore, has the advantage of large acreage, a number of mines in important districts, with 3,000 feet of development work done, and two or three years' time expended, and properties at the point of production. It has grown from a third of an acre to over 800 acres in two years. This company is conservatively capitalized at $1,000,000 and managed by competent and experienced men in the interest of the stockholders on the most careful business principles. All money raised from the sale of stock goes into the treasury for development and other purposes of the company, and the shares are sold at the lowest price that will give the company the money needed for its purpose. Over $100,000 has been raised and spent on its properties, and including the work on the Mary Cashen, Coriolanus, Mary Alice and Dillon, fully $300,000 of work and plant are represented in the development of the properties, without counting the value of the properties themselves. It is believed that no safer and better mining stock was ever offered to the public.

We cannot close this article without saying a word regarding the gentlemen who are offering the Par Value stock, and the company, itself, and what we say here and now is based upon a personal knowledge of the men and their methods. If they have one predominant quality it is conservatism. They under-estimate, rather than exaggerate the possibilities of their properties and as a result those who buy stock in their enterprises never fail to realize sooner and more substantially, than they promise. Another noteworthy feature in Smith, Stern & Company's method is the fact that they always insist upon an investigation before investing, well knowing that their proposition will more than sustain all that they say in its behalf. In addition they are honest, reliable and eminently trustworthy. They are notably successful in all their undertakings, because they are always formed upon the solid rock of truthfulness and rare merit.

We therefore feel that we can cheerfully and conscientiously recommend this stock as a safe and permanent investment, and investors, in a short time, will thank us for the advice we now give them to get interested in this valuable property. It is bound to be one of the best in the United States, and it will be but a short time before there will be none of the stock for sale at any price. As quick as the increased equipment is installed at the mine it will be in a position for business, and the mine will pay its own expenses as well as large dividends to its shareholders.

The Par Value company is managed by reliable business men of reputation and standing in the interests of all the stockholders. It has been established and operated over two years, and has developed the properties with the proceeds of the stock thoroughly and conscientiously, and this is the strongest statement that can be made in favor of any company. In short, we are pleased to say that we have not during our entire life of publication, investigated a more promising or more worthy company, and we especially advise whoever may read this to lose no time in securing a block of this stock while it can be obtained at its present price.

With the capitalization of one company the Par Value has the property of ten, and by a telegram from the general manager, dated October 21, we learn that shipments are being made from the Coriolanus, Mary Cashen and Dillon mines.

EXPRESS CO. ACCUSED

Of Acting as Wholesale Liquor Agent in a Prohibition County.

Nearly all of the Adams Express offices of Harrison county have become practically liquor saloons, says the Cadiz Republican. They allow the regular wholesale liquor dealers of the cities to ship their liquors to them. C. O. D. The liquors are received and stored in the express offices, and the agents become the salesmen to the parties who receive them, collecting the money and forwarding it to the wholesale dealers. Practically, in many cases, a store of liquor is kept on hand to be dealt out to any person who may call and pay for it, regardless of whether the person receiving it may be the one who originally ordered it. At the last term of court in Cadiz,

Prosecuting Attorney B. W. Rowland had a number of cases on hand arising out of this condition of affairs. The express agents from Station 15, Seio, Miller's Station, Cadiz Junction and Cadiz were summoned to testify before the grand jury, and the assistant superintendent of the express company was also there. Mr. Rowland had secured evidence in advance of what was being done by the company and there was nothing left for the agents but to confess to the facts. The individual agents all made the excuse that they were under orders from the superior officers of the company, and while it was not their personal taste to be liquor dealers, they were under compulsion to obey orders or resign their positions.

The Republican also says that it remains to be seen whether the Adams Express company, which is a rich and responsible corporation, can persist in violating the liquor laws of the county. It is believed by those who have examined the law pretty carefully that there is a whole lot of trouble ahead for this company. It has been suggested that the company has already made itself responsible not only for the payment of government license, but also for Dow tax and penalty for some eight or ten different establishments in Harrison county alone, to say nothing of other places, and that its officers can be brought in to court to answer for every violation of the law.

Great Record for Four Years.

The Mahin Advertising company will occupy the entire eighth floor of the Williams building, 200 Monroe street, Chicago, on December 27, just four years to the day from the time this young agency commenced business with five persons. Now it employs 115 persons and does a business exceeding $1,000,000 a year. There are 291 active advertisers who place their orders with this company.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, liver failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease, if kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys, and a cure is obtained quickly by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and seething pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake; but remember the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

ARE YOUR NERVES SHATTERED?

Are you on the brink of nervous prostration? Are your nerves all unstrung? Do you feel a general breaking down? It's no wonder! We Americans hustle too hard, we work too much and too long, we tax our nerve power to its greatest capacity. Nerves are not iron! They must give way under the great strain. Have you not already done so? You can tell if you have by those sleepless, restless nights you have, by those constant headaches you have and by your falling appetite. If you are one of those unfortunate creatures, why don't you try a box of NEURALGYLINE, the great nerve-builder!

IT RELIEVES THE MOST SEVERE CASES OF NEURALGIA AND ALL OTHER NERVE DISORDERS.

I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia. NEURALGYLINE has effected a permanent cure in my case.

CLOSE CALL FOR A HORSE

Street Car Narrowly Missed Killing an Animal Upon the Track.

A Rock Springs car came near killing another horse on Carolina avenue this morning. About 9 o'clock a man named Ferguson, who lives near Chester, was leading his horse down Carolina avenue and did not notice an approaching car. At the corner of Sixth street and Carolina avenue the car overtook them and struck the horse just as it stopped.

Only the quick action of the electric brake prevented the horse from being killed. As it was the animal escaped with only a few bruises.

The Hobbs Child Better.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hobbs, who has been critically ill with scarlet fever for some time past, is improved. Yesterday her condition became alarming again, but this morning she appeared to be better than since she was taken ill. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs recently died from this disease and they are greatly worried over the little girl's condition.

Last Day to Put Up Cash.

The candidates for office in Chester are beginning to pay their entrance fees. Tomorrow is the last day that this can be done and nearly every candidate has been around to see the election commissioners. They may deposit their money till tomorrow night at midnight. An official list of the names will then be published.

Goes Back to the Mill.

John P. West has closed up his butcher shop and expects to return to his place at the tin mill after the holidays are over. Mr. West conducted a shop on the upper end of Carolina avenue for several months. He is now also a candidate for recorder at the Chester election.

Special Meeting of Jr. O. U. A. M.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. will hold a special meeting tonight at their hall in Chester and expect to initiate two members. Rev. E. C. Lindsey, who expected to be initiated some time ago and who was unable to do so at the time, will take the degree tonight.

Closed for the Holidays.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery has closed down for the holidays. The clay hands have been off since last Thursday, while the balance of the employees will keep at work until tomorrow. The pottery will remain closed till after New Years.

CHESTER NOTES.

Fred McGahan is spending the holidays with friends in Steubenville. Ed Thompson is spending the week below Parkersburg on the river hunting.

Harry Glass and Ed Stewart were business visitors in Chester today. They are located in the oil fields near Chester.

John P. Rice will leave the latter part of this week for Steubenville, where he will have charge of the telephone crew.

Mrs. Harvey Plankinton expects to leave tomorrow for Pittsburg, where she will spend several days with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Connors.

John M. McClure returned Saturday from Pittsburg, where he has been employed for several weeks. Mr. McClure expects to remain at home during the holidays.

G. A. Arner has accepted a position with the A. J. Thrasher Mercantile company, of Pittsburg, and will travel for them till spring. His territory will be the Ohio river towns in this vicinity.
